

Site Of Circleville Picked 166 Years Ago

EDITOR'S NOTE: Pickaway County Common Pleas Court Judge William Ammer prepared the following entry in commemoration of the 166th anniversary of the selection of the site for the city of Circleville. It became a part of the records of common pleas court at 7:59 a.m. today when it was accepted and duly entered in the records by Sara M. Dresbach, clerk of the court.

After the Ohio General Assembly decided to form Pickaway County from parts of Franklin, Ross and Fairfield Counties, it designated a three-man commission to select a location for the seat of justice.

On January 12, 1810, exactly 166 years ago today, the commission finally chose a spot that history calls the Circleville Earthworks. This was a prehistoric enclosure made up of a circle 1,100 feet in diameter and to the east, an adjoining square 900 feet per side.

Inside both enclosures were mounds. History attributes the earthworks' origin to the Indians' ancestors, the Moundbuilders, and speculates on whether the purpose was defensive or religious.

Daniel Dreisbach, as commission director, laid out the town within the circular enclosure. Streets radiated from the center like the spokes of a wheel and there were some circular thoroughfares.

In the center of the circle was an octagon-shaped brick building that became the Courthouse. It also was the site of religious and political meetings and community entertainment.

Housing was rapidly built (40 families became residents the first year) and in 1814 Circleville was incorporated.

But in a few years, dissatisfaction flared. The circular pattern had produced awkward and inconvenient lots and forced some undesirable designs in building construction.

In addition, many objected to the open space surrounding the Courthouse, for it was there that horses were hitched and fed. This attracted other domestic animals which, in those times, were allowed to roam free.

And real estate promoters saw good possibilities in those odd-shaped pieces of land that would become available at low cost, if the town were reshaped into a checkerboard design with streets running at right angles to each other.

The Legislature first okayed the alteration on March 29, 1837, but all property owners refused to go along with the idea. It later approved changeover by sections at a time.

On March 23, 1838, work began on squaring the southeast section of the circle. The northwest-quarter squaring began later that year, the northeast-quarter in 1849, and finally, the southwest fourth in 1856.

The octagon Courthouse was torn down in 1841 during the squaring process, and, until a new building was completed in 1847, court was held in a residence.

Common Pleas Court played an important role in early Circleville, safeguarding public interests in an emerging community, handling heavy caseloads and doing all probate court work until 1851.

It was sometime before all vestiges of the town's original circular nucleus were eliminated, but when the job was completed, Circleville had accomplished a feat regarding as impossible in geometry-it had squared a circle!

Attached and made a part of this entry is a copy of an original drawing by Artist Leland D. McClelland of the first Courthouse of Circleville.

The Court takes pride, on the occasion of the 166th anniversary of Circleville being selected as the county seat of Pickaway County, in observing this event and to recall the important part that Circleville has played in the rich heritage of the County and the State of Ohio.

This anniversary of selection of Circleville as the seat of government of Pickaway County should be commemorated by all citizens of the area in this Bicentennial year to note the beginning of a glorious community which has grown in pride and distinction each year since January 12, 1810.

It is ordered that this entry be spread upon the journal of this Court to mark this historical event.

Selective Service May Be Victim Of Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the military draft inactive for almost three years, the Selective Service System may emerge as a target of federal budget trimmers looking for places to cut costs.

The draft ended in 1973. Since last March 29, 18-year-olds have not been required to register on their birthday and the machinery was being developed for a mass registration on one or two days a year for all men who turn 18 that year. However, this plan probably will be called off this year because of the budget crunch, according to informed sources.

In past years, the date of the annual lottery which decides the order that men would be called up if necessary, has been announced by early January. But there are no signs of it happening this year.

Furthermore, President Ford has issued no proclamation setting a date for the once-a-year registration system for all men who turned 18 in that year. Nor is there any indication Ford will set such a plan in motion by designating the date.

If the lottery and registration are not held this year, it would be the first year since the two-year lapse of the draft law in 1947-1948 that 18-year-olds were not processed in any fashion.

Asked about this situation, Selective Service Director Byron V. Peptone noted that future plans are up to Ford, and he declined to speculate on what the President's decision might be.

The service had a $37.5 million budget this year while planning for a standby draft and administering the jobs programs that were part of Ford's clemency program. The Selective Service maintains 626 offices and a staff of 2,000.

Meanwhile, the chairman of the Senate appropriations subcommittee that has jurisdiction over the Selective Service said the agency should be abolished.

Calling the Selective Service System the biggest boondoggle in government, Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said in a statement today that keeping the agency in business after the draft has been abolished cannot be justified.

"The new budget should contain no more money for Selective Service than it will cost to kill the agency this year," said Proxmire, who has been campaigning for three years to abolish the agency.

Heavy Snow Smothers New England

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The first major snow storm of 1976 struck New England today, hitting especially hard at southern areas where up to 10 inches were expected. Schools were closed in most parts of metropolitan Boston, all of Worcester County and many other areas of Massachusetts.

The National Weather Service said the center of the storm was just off Cape Cod at dawn and headed out to sea. The snow was expected to end later today.

One storm-related death was reported — Walter Potasky, 66, of Easthampton, Mass., collapsed and died Sunday while shoveling snow.

Early morning fires caused some major problems as firefighters were hampered by snow, frigid temperatures and blustery winds.

Classes were cancelled at Northeastern University and Suffolk Downs and Narragansett race-tracks were closed.

Boston's Logan International Airport was closed by drifting snow from 3:30 a.m. to 7 a.m.

The storm was a boon to the 38 volunteers recreating the bicentennial winter trek of Col. Henry Knox through the Berkshires of western Massachusetts with cannon from Fort Ticonderoga.

The snow aided their progress because the party is using horse-drawn sleds to move the cannon. They were enroute today from Monterey to Otis, and are due in Cambridge Jan. 27.

Elsewhere, all weather warnings were ended but travelers advisories for icy roads were continued in eastern New York, Vermont and down the Atlantic coast through the Washington, D.C., area. Travelers' advisories also covered eastern Tennessee and northern Georgia because of fog and icy roads.

A BABY IN THE HOUSE IS A PERFECT EXAMPLE OF MINORITY RULE

Country's Economy Looking Better For Coming Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. unemployment rate will average between 7.5 per cent and 7.75 per cent this year, compared with 8.5 per cent last year, the Commerce Department predicts.

The department also estimated that prices are expected to rise by 6.5 per cent this year, compared with 7 per cent in 1975.

The department, in a report issued Sunday, also predicted that the volume of total economic output this year will rise by 6 per cent or 7 per cent on the basis of continued growth in U.S. industrial production. By comparison, the total output, or Gross National Product, was virtually flat last year.

The report said the projection on economic output "will represent an average to above-average economic expansion in comparison to equivalent periods of the preceding four recoveries."

On unemployment, the report said that although the over-all forecast was for at least average post-recession growth, major progress in fighting unemployment will be hindered by increased productivity and industrial operation at rates still well below capacity.

For example, while the auto industry is expected to experience an improvement of 13 per cent in output, auto-industry employment was expected to increase by only 2.6 per cent.

In other economic news:

—James E. Smith, comptroller of the currency, denied Sunday that his office considers the First National City Bank and the Chase Manhattan Bank as problems. Spokesmen for the two banks also denied that the banks were in trouble.

The Washington Post had reported that the New York City banks have been placed by the comptroller on a secret list of problem banks.

—New data from the Federal Reserve System showed Sunday that 954 banks in 33 states held $6.491 billion of New York State and New York City obligations as of last fall.

The new study was requested by Rep. Benjamin S. Rosenthal, D-N.Y. The Federal Reserve said that in general banks' "holdings of New York obligations have presumably decreased as a result of the retirement of obligations which matured subsequent to the survey dates" last November.

In the two-week session beginning today, the court will also hear challenges by some pregnant women to their exclusion from disability benefits, by Indians to state taxation and by blacks to written tests for police recruits.

The court is expected to rule shortly on the constitutionality of campaign spending legislation passed by Congress to govern the 1976 presidential campaign and future federal elections.

Stevens will have no part in this decision, however, because he was not a member of the court when arguments were heard on Nov. 10.

Later this winter or spring, the court is to hear arguments for the second time on a North Carolina case that could decide the future of the death penalty in the United States.

Stevens arrived from Chicago last Tuesday and began preparing for the court's session. He met with the other justices for the first time Friday in one of the closed conferences where they initially review cases.

Justice John Paul Stevens Joins Court Deliberations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice John Paul Stevens faces legal issues ranging from the rights of aliens to the protection of wildlife as he joins his colleagues for the first working session on the Supreme Court bench.

As the court returns today from a four-week recess, it confronts a calendar that illustrates Stevens' own words at his confirmation hearings last month about the nature of the matters that the justices must rule on.

"There are, I suppose, a larger proportion of the decisions where you don't have as clear guideposts as you do in the Court of Appeals," he said then. "There are times when you must face up to questions to which there are no clear answers."

Stevens was a judge of the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago for five years before he was sworn in Dec. 19 to succeed Justice William O. Douglas.

Pittsburgh Teachers Face Fine

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Public school teachers, refusing to obey a court order to end their seven-week old strike, face a $25,000 initial fine and $10,000 a day if they continue their walkout.

Allegheny County Judge Donald Ziegler, who found the teachers in contempt last Thursday of his Jan. 3 order that they return to the classroom, scheduled a hearing for today to levy the initial $25,000 contempt fine. The school board ordered the strikers to report to work today.

However, the 4,400 union members rejected what the board called its final offer on Saturday, and Pittsburgh Federation of Teachers President Albert Fondy repeated that the strike will continue until a contract is ratified.

The teachers' union has said it has no money to pay the fines. But the strike has received the support of the Allegheny County Labor Council and the United Steelworkers, which have offered manpower for picket lines and money for the fines.

The board said its latest proposal on Saturday would cost the city $2.2 million this year and another $5.9 million next year. No further details of the proposal were released.

Teachers are presently paid between $8,700 and $16,700 annually. At last report, they were asking for increases ranging from $2,700 to $6,000 by the end of 1977.

Gambling Hearings Scheduled

CLEVELAND (AP) — U.S. Sen. Robert Taft says the National Gambling Commission, which conducts public hearings here Friday, is trying to "bring order to the bewildering mass of conflicting attitudes and practices" on gambling in this country.

Taft says the commission, of which he is a member, will hear from the Ohio lottery officials along with witnesses from the Akron, Canton, Cleveland, Toledo and Youngstown areas.

In announcing the hearings, Taft said local, state and federal gambling laws are "as variable and inconsistent as the folkways that these laws reflect or distort."

The commission, established under the Organized Crime Control Act of 1970, has held hearings in 16 cities over the past year and is to make its final report to The President and Congress next fall.

Taft said the report is expected to be "the most thorough study of the laws and history of gambling ever compiled. The commission expects this report to serve as the definitive reference work for the Congress as well as state and local legislative bodies as they pursue changes in the laws that govern gambling activities."

In previous hearings, testimony covered sports event betting, casinos, racetrack betting, lotteries, law enforcement, public revenue-producing aspects, organized crime and social consequences.

Other members include Washington lawyer Charles Morin; U.S. Sens. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., and Howard Cannon, D-Nev., and U.S. Reps. James Hanley, D-N.Y., Gladys Spellman, D-Md., Sam Steiger, R-Ariz., and Charles Wiggins, R-Calif.

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — A man described as a "key figure" by Special Prosecutor George L. Hanna was expected to be called today before a grand jury investigating alleged corruption in Tippecanoe County.

The jury was to be impaneled this morning. Hanna predicted it would take at least three weeks for the investigation.

The key figure, David Banton, 33, Lafayette, told newsmen Sunday a former Lafayette public official received stolen merchandise over a two-year period. Banton said he expected to testify several hours.

Duerk Wins Expense Money

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state Emergency Board reversed itself today and granted the development department blanket authority for travel expenses on promotional trips in the nation and abroad.

The four Democratic members of the five-member board voted last month to reject the department's request for release of $10,000 in travel funds.

"All we're trying to do is respond to business opportunities and get jobs for people in Ohio," Director James A. Duerk told the panel. "It's absolutely essential that our people have the ability to move."

Following Duerk's brief presentation, the board unanimously approved release of the funds with the stipulation that Duerk apply individually for travel expense approval for trips planned at least 30 days in advance.

3-Man Junta Takes Control Of Government In Ecuador

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — A three-man junta that took control of Ecuador's military government in a bloodless weekend reshuffle says the military will remain in power until the end of 1977.

The commanders of the army, navy and air force eased Gen. Guillermo Rodriguez Lara out of the presidency early Sunday, a few hours after his daughter's wedding at the government palace.

Political and diplomatic sources said the three junta members — Gen. Guillermo Duran Arcentales of the army, Vice Adm. Alfredo Poveda Borbon and Gen. Luis Leoro Franco of the air force — are conservatives interested mainly in increasing Ecuador's oil production and stimulating the economy.

"They decided to change horses and settle the economic problems," said one diplomat.

"The black gold (oil revenue) just hasn't filtered down to the people yet," said another.

All three junta members are in their 40s, and all had advanced military training in the United States.

The only opposition reported came in the form of critical statements by several former cabinet officers, one of whom was arrested last week; by civilian politicians who wanted immediate elections; and by a retired colonel, Jorge Ceballos, who announced he was leading a "resistance command" at the border town of Tolcan, 125 miles north of the capital.

Military sources said they doubted any troops were supporting Ceballos. Various military commanders and

GI Bill Benefits Pondered

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new study sponsored by the Veterans Administration argues that education benefits under the GI bill should continue to be paid to veterans rather than go directly to schools.

Congress is considering legislation that would require GI education benefits to be paid directly to the schools to assure that the money is used for education rather than for unauthorized purposes.

A 223-page Veterans Administration study was made by the VA administrator's education and rehabilitation advisory committee headed by William M. Detweiler, a Vietnam veteran and New Orleans attorney. Several of the 10 members are educators.

The committee sent questionnaires to 8,000 veterans and dependents going to school under the GI bill, and 5,912 sent usable responses which brought the finding that 19 of 20 prefer the present system of providing flat allowances to veterans directly.

The committee, in recommending that no change be made, said it "has the highest respect for the veteran's right to bargain for the educational institution of his choice and believes that the American taxpayer is the direct beneficiary of the veteran's conscientious spending of our tax dollars."

The committee, while finding that tuition cost was not the main factor in selection of school for most, added, "Trainees under the GI bill tend to seek the lowest cost schools and therefore have a lower average cost for tuition and fees than is average ... within both the public school and the private school categories."

Arrives In Paris

PARIS (AP) — Russian dissident Leonid Plyushch and his family have arrived for a stay of at least three months to allow the mathematician to recover from his 2½-year incarceration in a Soviet mental hospital.

garrisons issued statements pledging loyalty to the junta.

The junta ordered a curfew but canceled it Sunday night with the explanation that there had been no disorders. However, it closed down Radio Quito after it broadcast a statement by Gen. Raul Puma Velasco, the jailed former minister of public works, calling Gen. Duran "inept" and pledging a struggle "for the welfare and the security of the Ecuadorean people."

The police also locked the editors of El Comercio, a newspaper that owns the radio station, in the newspaper plant.

A small crowd watched as Rodriguez Lara, 52, and his son left the presidential palace in a small station wagon for the expresident's ranch in the mountains. Rodriguez, who led a military coup in 1972, said in a statement he was stepping down "without there having been the slightest military pressure."

Riot Police Called Out In Spain

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Riot police routed workers with tear gas and clubs in the center of the capital and stormed back onto Madrid University campus today to break up demonstrations as Spain's worst labor strife in years idled thousands for the third straight day.

No injuries or arrests were immediately reported.

Police swooped down on the workers as they demonstrated for higher pay.

They also poured onto the Madrid University campus in buses, jeeps and on horseback after 500 law and philosophy students began marching across the campus, blocking traffic and shouting "Down With Dictatorship!"

The protesters urged studentworker unity for a general strike and called on King Juan Carlos "to listen because the people are in struggle."

Police earlier closed a suburban subway line after a bomb ripped rails before daily service began. Subway officials said six other bombs were found.

Police said nobody was hurt by the explosion. But a subway spokesman said damage was extensive. He said he did not know when service would be restored.

The 3,800 subway workers struck for five days last week for higher pay. The workers, who make an average of $3,120 a year, demanded $625 more a year; the government agreed to $500.

Miamisburg Man Drowns At Oxford

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Accidental drowning has been ruled in the case of James Welsh, a 20-year-old business administration student from Miamisburg who drowned Saturday at Miami University.

Butler County Coroner Dr. Garret J. Boone said the victim possibly suffered from a convulsive disorder.

School officials said the victim was swimming in Billings Natatorium. Life guards were on duty.

School Walkout Starts In Berea

CLEVELAND (AP) — Teachers struck the Berea school system today in a dispute centering on wages, but school officials said classrooms will remain open though with less supervision than normal.

A school official said early today that picket lines were attempting to block driveways to prevent bus service and were partially successful, though the pickets permitted people to enter buildings.

"The granting of the blanket is not an exclusion of the requirement to one before the board for approval (of planned trips)," said Bill Williams, the state auditor's representative on the emergency board.

"I really don't know why the board held it up in the first place," Duerk said after the meeting. "It's obvious now they see the need more clearly."

The emergency board meeting opens a full week of legislative activity, with floor sessions beginning Tuesday in the House and Senate.

Duerk's department is not the only Rhodes administration cabinet office facing scrutiny from Democrats.

On Wednesday the joint finance committees will reopen hearings on the state budget that was approved last July 1. The legislators want to take another look at the budgets of several departments, which claim to be unfunded.

The Ohio Department of Economic and Community Development is responsible for attempting to attract new industries to the state as well as promoting Ohio concerns all over the world.

"When we need to go some place quickly, we need that blanket authority to travel," Duerk said.

The "blanket authority" would not apply to trips planned in advance. These would be submitted to the emergency board, which, notes lone Republican member Robert Howarth, "is all-powerful when it comes to out-of-state travel."

In fact, that is the five-member panel's only function and Democratic members admit they have taken a harder line in recent months.

One of them, House Finance Chairman Myrl H. Shoemaker, D-88 Bourneville, says the development department should poll board members by telephone when an unexpected trip is necessary. But Shoemaker added "We'll listen to what he (Duerk) has to say Monday."

Another Democrat, Atty. Gen. William J. Brown, says the board wants to cut down on "blanket requests" from all state agencies.

Brown said he would be "happy to listen to his (Duerk's) plea. I have an open mind about it."

Duerk has remained low key about the matter so far. "I said it was political," he said of the board's refusal to release the money last month, "because I didn't know what else it could be."

The department is asking for the release of $10,000 from its own budget for travel in the first quarter of 1976 and authority to use the money without approval in emergency cases.

Duerk said he would not risk sending development promoters on spot trips without that authority.

He will also ask again for renewal of a $75 per day allowance for travel and lodging in Europe. The department maintains trade offices in Dusseldorf, Germany, and Brussels, Belgium. Identical foreign and U.S. travel requests were approved by the board for the last quarter of 1975.

"Right now, we're hamstrung," a development spokesman said. "We can't leave here."

Argentine Wheat Good

WASHINGTON (AP) — Argentina, once a major wheat export competitor of the United States, Canada and Australia, is on the verge of regaining its earlier role if the harvest turns out as well as it now looks, the Agriculture Department said today.

"If its 1975-76 wheat harvest is as successful as experts are currently predicting, Argentina will put more wheat on sale in world markets than it has in a decade," the department's Foreign Agricultural Service said.

Wheat production is expected to be 8 million metric tons, up 40 per cent from last year's crop, the agency said in a report by James P. Rudbeck, an U.S. agricultural attache.

"With domestic consumption expected to remain at about 4.4 million tons, exports are now predicted at 3.6 million, an amount not matched since 1965-66," Rudbeck said.

Argentina exported 1.75 million tons of wheat last season and 1.55 million in 1973-74. There are 2,205 pounds in a metric ton, equal to about 36.7 bushels of wheat.

Pittsburgh Teachers Face Fine

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Public school teachers, refusing to obey a court order to end their seven-week old strike, face a $25,000 initial fine and $10,000 a day if they continue their walkout.

Allegheny County Judge Donald Ziegler, who found the teachers in contempt last Thursday of his Jan. 3 order that they return to the classroom, scheduled a hearing for today to levy the initial $25,000 contempt fine.

The school board ordered the strikers to report to work today. However, the 4,400 union members rejected what the board called its final offer on Saturday, and Pittsburgh Federation of Teachers President Albert Fondy repeated that the strike will continue until a contract is ratified.

The teachers' union has said it has no money to pay the fines. But the strike has received the support of the Allegheny County Labor Council and the United Steelworkers, which have offered manpower for picket lines and money for the fines.

The board said its latest proposal on Saturday would cost the city $2.2 million this year and another $5.9 million next year. No further details of the proposal were released.

Teachers are presently paid between $8,700 and $16,700 annually. At last report, they were asking for increases ranging from $2,700 to $6,000 by the end of 1977.

Gambling Hearings Scheduled

CLEVELAND (AP) — U.S. Sen. Robert Taft says the National Gambling Commission, which conducts public hearings here Friday, is trying to "bring order to the bewildering mass of conflicting attitudes and practices" on gambling in this country.

Taft says the commission, of which he is a member, will hear from the Ohio lottery officials along with witnesses from the Akron, Canton, Cleveland, Toledo and Youngstown areas.

In announcing the hearings, Taft said local, state and federal gambling laws are "as variable and inconsistent as the folkways that these laws reflect or distort."

The commission, established under the Organized Crime Control Act of 1970, has held hearings in 16 cities over the past year and is to make its final report to the President and Congress next fall.

Taft said the report is expected to be "the most thorough study of the laws and history of gambling ever compiled. The commission expects this report to serve as the definitive reference work for the Congress as well as state and local legislative bodies as they pursue changes in the laws that govern gambling activities."

In previous hearings, testimony covered sports event betting, casinos, racetrack betting, lotteries, law enforcement, public revenue-producing aspects, organized crime and social consequences.

Other members include Washington lawyer Charles Morin; U.S. Sens. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., and Howard Cannon, D-Nev., and U.S. Reps. James Hanley, D-N.Y., Gladys Spellman, D-Md., Sam Steiger, R-Ariz., and Charles Wiggins, R-Calif.

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — A man described as a "key figure" by a Special Prosecutor George L. Hanna was expected to be called today before a grand jury investigating alleged corruption in Tippecanoe County.

The jury was to be impaneled this morning. Hanna predicted it would take at least three weeks for the investigation.

The key figure, David Banton, 33, Lafayette, told newsmen Sunday a former Lafayette public official received stolen merchandise over a two-year period. Banton said he expected to testify several hours.

Duerk Wins Expense Money

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state Emergency Board reversed itself today and granted the development department blanket authority for travel expenses on promotional trips in the nation and abroad.

The four Democratic members of the five-member board voted last month to reject the department's request for release of $10,000 in travel funds.

"All we're trying to do is respond to business opportunities and get jobs for people in Ohio," Director James A. Duerk told the panel. "It's absolutely essential that our people have the ability to move."

Following Duerk's brief presentation, the board unanimously approved release of the funds with the stipulation that Duerk apply individually for travel expense approval for trips planned at least 30 days in advance.

3-Man Junta Takes Control Of Government In Ecuador

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — A three-man junta that took control of Ecuador's military government in a bloodless weekend reshuffle says the military will remain in power until the end of 1977.

The commanders of the army, navy and air force eased Gen. Guillermo Rodriguez Lara out of the presidency early Sunday, a few hours after his daughter's wedding at the government palace.

Political and diplomatic sources said the three junta members — Gen. Guillermo Duran Arcentales of the army, Vice Adm. Alfredo Poveda Borbon and Gen. Luis Leoro Franco of the air force — are conservatives interested mainly in increasing Ecuador's oil production and stimulating the economy.

"They decided to change horses and settle the economic problems," said one diplomat.

"The black gold (oil revenue) just hasn't filtered down to the people yet," said another.

All three junta members are in their 40s, and all had advanced military training in the United States.

The only opposition reported came in the form of critical statements by several former cabinet officers, one of whom was arrested last week; by civilian politicians who wanted immediate elections; and by a retired colonel, Jorge Ceballos, who announced he was leading a "resistance command" at the border town of Tulcan, 125 miles north of the capital.

Military sources said they doubted any troops were supporting Ceballos. Various military commanders and garrisons issued statements pledging loyalty to the junta.

The junta ordered a curfew but canceled it Sunday night with the explanation that there had been no disorders. However, it closed down Radio Quito after it broadcast a statement by Gen. Raul Puma Velasco, the jailed former minister of public works, calling Gen. Duran "inept" and pledging a struggle "for the welfare and the security of the Ecuadorean people."

A small crowd watched as Rodriguez Lara, 52, and his son left the presidential palace in a small station wagon for the expresident's ranch in the mountains. Rodriguez, who led a military coup in 1972, said in a statement he was stepping down "without there having been the slightest military pressure."

State Highway Patrolman Al Svetek cited 19-year-old Tonja K. Crumley, Route 5, for failure to yield the right of way from a stop sign.

According to his report, Ms. Crumley had stopped on the Stout Road to make a left turn onto Route 188. She lost control of her vehicle and was hit by a car driven by James D. Schoby, 38, 908 Lincoln Drive. Schoby's auto came to rest in the ditch and Ms. Crumley's car was in the roadway when the officer arrived.

Nick E. Stonerock, Route 1, Williamsport, reported to Pickaway County Sheriff's Authorities that thieves stole his 1973 pick up truck from the rear of his residence on the Williamsport-Crownover-Mill Road, sometime between 8 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. Sunday.

Stonerock told investigating Deputies F. R. McCoy that the keys were not in the ignition or in the truck at the time of the theft.

Value of the truck was set at $3,000.

Firefighters Call In Sick

CLEVELAND (AP) — The fire department crews which were on duty Friday in East Cleveland remained on duty over the weekend after the Saturday and Sunday crews called in sick to back up pay demands.

Richard Kaleal, spokesman for Local 500 of the International Association of Firefighters, said if the sick calls continued today, the Friday shift would try to work another day.

The firemen are seeking a 13 per cent pay raise and also are demanding a reduction in the work week from 56 to 48 hours.

Kaleal said the firemen don't want to negotiate any longer with City Manager Curtis Hall but intend to talk directly with city commissioners.

Mayor Mae Stewart, said the city commission has frozen wages, and that salary increases are out of the question.

Washington C.H. Man Injured In One-Car Wreck

Twenty-four-year-old Keith J. Evans, of Washington C. H. was referred to a physician for injuries sustained in a single-car accident, 8:23 a.m. Sunday on Route 22.

Energy From Waste

For some time people have been talking about combining solid waste disposal problems with the need for new energy sources and finding common solutions. Some communities have turned to burning garbage and other wastes to produce energy, and more are thinking along those lines.

Economic pressures continue to work in favor of the concept. Few of the plants now in force could be considered profitable enterprises — so far. But the cost of waste disposal continues to rise and land suitable for landfill operations becomes more remote.

At the other end of the equation, the cost of conventional energy production is not going to subside, and may well continue to accelerate in the years immediately ahead. Operations to convert waste into energy which are only marginal today could be bargains within a few years.

Another distinct advantage is the almost inexhaustible supply of the fuel burned in waste disposal energy plants.

That is the one condition which seems to assure increasing interest and experimentation.

On To Super Bowl

By JIM BISHOP

Pro football brings out the worst in my wife. It is fortuitous for the Bishops that, very soon, the game goes into hibernation in a flurry of fury. Kelly has chewed her way through six dozen paper cups, four napkins and a tablecloth.

You see, up until three years ago, football was the old man's pleasure. I sat alone at the tube, chewing sandwiches, emptying dishes of salted nuts and running to the bathroom when the referee called time out. Not counting minor episodes of cardiac arrest.

Then I made a grave error. The three ladies in our house — Kelly, Karen, Kathi — asked what the heck a first down is. I explained, using my most condescending tone. They then re-explained it to each other.

The downfall started there. They began to watch games. In time, on third and long, they called for a play-action pass. It was but a step from this to selecting a "favorite team."

They liked the Miami Dolphins. We spend the winter in Florida, so it was a short punt from watching to getting tickets to see the games.

Dear readers, please understand that my women are feminine ladies. They are the kind who would smile at you from behind a fan while un-sheathing the knife.

Ladies my eye. I have never heard such horrendous screaming, such holding of heads with both hands, nor have I seen necks distended and eyes popping with such unmitigated rage.

My father was a legitimate football fan. He brought tickets to see Princeton play at Palmer Stadium, and he jammed himself and his pint of booze deep into an overcoat and shook his fist at Yale, Brown, Colgate, Harvard, Columbia, et al.

Until Kelly attended the Orange Bowl, she thought that Shula was a one-legged kicker. Now she and the girls do their own instant replay. My wife's observation at every game is:

"Look how small our kids are compared to those hairy monsters." If quarterback Bob Griese is dumped behind the line of scrimmage, they shout in chorus, "Fifteen yards for a personal foul!"

Should the officials disagree with the three Ks they appeal to God to take notice that the referee and judges are in the pay of the opposing team.

They are rabid in the sense that rabies is incurable. When the Dolphins win, we eat well. When they don't, we don't. My wife paced the kitchen, mumbling incoherencies to the refrigerator, the range and the sink. I never ask for a translation.

The past season was interesting because Miami blew a few chances to get into the playoffs. My wife bought a necklace of worry beads. She besought the Almighty to get in that line and block for Don Nottingham.

When that didn't work, the titanic trio went into mourning. They said, "Wait 'til next year." I said I had listened to that phrase for 30 years in Brooklyn. They didn't know what I was talking about.

The boob tube was bound to be cold through the playoffs. The ladies had no interest in the games. Then bucket-mouth — me — made another sage observation:

"Two of the teams which beat Miami — Baltimore and Oakland — are in the playoffs." This had a magical effect. The ladies had a rapt interest in hoping both teams would be crushed.

A stranger, Franco Harris of Pittsburgh, became hero in our house. Baltimore was defeated because they beat Miami. The girls rooted for Paul Brown's Cincinnati team to beat Oakland. They were learning what it is like to root against someone.

When the first two games were over, they smacked their lips over the Baltimore games, and were pleased to observe that Pittsburgh reserved only 500 tickets for Baltimore rooters.

All afternoon they heard the guttural roar of Pittsburgh fans demanding Baltimore blood. "Did you notice," Kathi observed with a smirk, "how hostile those Pittsburgh fans were?"

"Exactly," Kelly said righteously. "It was appalling. I can't understand fans who allow animal instincts to take over. Thank God I raised you two to be ladies."

Business World

NEW YORK (AP) — What a week it was for Wall Street.

Every day a winner. The Dow Jones Industrial average leaped 52.42 points, its second biggest one-week advance in history.

Lots of activity. The total volume of 141.9 million shares made last week the second busiest in the history of the New York Stock Exchange, topped only by the week ended Jan. 31, 1975.

Plenty of good news. The prime rate fell to 7 per cent. Retail sales were strong in December. Wholesale prices actually declined in that month, the Labor Department reported.

Take further note of that information on wholesale prices. No, it wasn't just that the rate of increase slowed; prices actually fell in December, by four-tenths of 1 per cent.

Never before has the stock market had quite such a week.

And now the question that only time, investors and the market itself can answer: Will it continue?

A knowledge of mass psychology as well as economics is essential to even understanding what happened last week. Ingredients of both were involved: continued economic recovery and an upturn in confidence.

This combination of events often becomes self-generating, creating a magical situation that develops into a full-fledged rally. But everyone has also seen the magic evaporate.

As last week came to a close there was evidence that speculators already were taking their profits, not unexpectedly, but to an extent that any wise investor will be watching closely.

The critical factor the next few weeks would seem to be the type of economic news from Washington. Confidence can carry the market briefly, but confidence doesn't exist without an economic base.

The consensus economic forecast for 1976 is continued recovery, but not at a strong or rapid pace. Instead, it is expected to be gradual but spotty, and not without some serious problems, notably inflation.

Inflation can undermine the advance in many ways; it can eat into personal savings available for investment, erode profits, add to the pressure on interest rates. And high rates are bad for stocks.

In fact, past stock market charts will show that peaks in stock prices usually coincide with valleys in interest rates. High interest rates draw investment funds from the stock market.

It will be important therefore over the next few weeks to watch for additional strength in retail sales, industrial production and some of the other indicators of activity. If that strength is there, the market has base.

A further decline in the prime interest rate also might be interpreted as strengthening the base, and some analysts on Wall Street fully expect that decline in the next few weeks.

One caveat that you'll hear often in economic and investing circles is never to try for the last dollar. If an advance seems to be developing, take your time and make sure it continues; and if you feel a decline might be approaching, don't hold out until the final minute. With conditions so volatile today, that caveat applies as strongly today as ever before.

Retail Beef Prices Rise In December

WASHINGTON (AP) — After declining for four consecutive months, retail beef prices edged up slightly in December, but consumer pork prices continued to drop because farmers received less for live hogs, according to preliminary figures by the Agriculture Department.

The average price of beef sold in retail stores was slightly more than $1.52 a pound, up one-tenth of a cent on an all-out basis from November, the department said. Retail beef prices rose to a record of $1.61 a pound last July before beginning their gradual decline.

Retail pork prices, according to USDA figures released Friday, averaged about $1.48 a pound in December, down 3.9 per cent from $1.54 in November and 7 per cent below the October record of almost $1.59 in October.

Department economists say that the increase in beef prices was expected because of rising consumer demand and the relatively high price of competing supplies of pork. Further gains may occur through the first half of 1976 because of seasonally smaller supplies of beef and rising costs for processing and marketing.

Although retail pork prices may ease further, department experts say no substantial declines are seen until after midyear when farmers are expected to increase hog production for the slaughter market.

The first railroad dining car ever operated in the world was the "Delmonico" built in 1868.

An early Ohio geological report noted that a great gas well, the Karg Well at Findlay, completed in 1886, had a daily yield when first opened of not less than 14 million cubic feet.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester I. Coleman, M.D.

I know that it is unfair to ask this question, but could you hazard a guess about the reason why a young adult should have heartburn every time she eats? My daughter takes all kinds of medicine for it.

Mrs. H.F., Rhode Island

Dear Mrs. F.:

I could, of course, "hazard a guess."

If I did, it would be most unfair to you.

When any symptoms persist, any speculation about the cause is fraught with potential danger. The greatest danger lies in the fact that you apparently are avoiding reality. Your daughter obviously needs a complete physical examination to determine the cause of her distress.

Poor eating habits, tobacco, or medication may be the cause. There may be problems with the esophagus, the stomach, or the small intestines. The gall bladder, too, may be responsible.

All of these can be easily studied. In the absence of any physical findings, the emotional state and the tensions of young people must be considered as causes of the symptoms she complains of.

To guess at the cause is to encourage the possibility of neglected treatment and further complications.

Can the excitement of a prizefight be the reason why my heart began to pump violently last night? The pumping lasted for three minutes and then stopped.

Mr. D.S., Ohio

Dear Mr. S.:

The kind of heart palpitation you describe can be associated with the excitement of this or any other sport. A drink or two before the prizefight, increased consumption of cigarettes and emotional tension can be the culprits.

I know a patient who develops this kind of palpitation (tachycardia) during high-spirited card games.

Some drugs, especially the amphetamines, can cause this rapid pumping of the heart, especially if compounded by excitement.

In most instances, these transitory episodes are of no major importance. Yet, they do deserve investigation. You obviously are worried. An electrocardiogram and discussion with your doctor will relieve you of your anxiety.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH...

Everyone should wear protective paper sandals in the dressing rooms of gyms and swimming pools.

Indian Sites Bill Up For Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An almost forgotten bill, affecting forgotten Americans, is set for a vote this week as the Ohio House takes up a proposal aimed at protecting prehistoric Indian sites from "haphazard destruction."

Dr. Thomas Smith, director of the Ohio Historical Society, said the legislation was designed to offer a workable solution to the problem of often indiscriminate destruction of Indian mounds and earthworks.

The society estimates that Ohio once had as many as 5,000 mounds, mostly from the Adena and Hopewell cultures, dating back to 1,000 B.C. The developers with their bulldozers, and others, have reduced that archaeological storehouse to about 1,000 mounds, according to the society.

The bill, scheduled for a vote Tuesday on the House floor, provides incentives and protective mechanisms intended to preserve significant examples of native American history.

It would establish a State Registry of Archaeological Landmarks to protect land the society considers valuable. Privately-owned land would be placed on the registry only with the consent of the owner.

Any disturbance of such sites, without proper notification to the society, could bring 90 days in jail and a $750 fine.

The special attraction at the Cliftona Theater in downtown Circleville was Major Bowes Original Amateurs on tour. Prices for the crowd-pleasing stage show were 30 cents for adults and 10 cents for children, until 5 p.m.

Hunn's Market, 116 E. Main St., was drawing plenty of customers with a big sale on meats of all kinds.

Pickaway Township Parent Teachers Association netted $75 and rid the area of 12 foxes in a drive with an estimated 800 persons participating.

The $3,200 donated for construction of a city park was returned to subscribers. The project failed because funds were inadequate to purchase land and pay material costs to have the city playground classed as a WPA project.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I know that it is unfair to ask this question, but could you hazard a guess about the reason why a young adult should have heartburn every time she eats? My daughter takes all kinds of medicine for it.

Mrs. H.F., Rhode Island

Dear Mrs. F.:

I could, of course, "hazard a guess." If I did, it would be most unfair to you.

When any symptoms persist, any speculation about the cause is fraught with potential danger. The greatest danger lies in the fact that you apparently are avoiding reality. Your daughter obviously needs a complete physical examination to determine the cause of her distress.

Poor eating habits, tobacco, or medication may be the cause. There may be problems with the esophagus, the stomach, or the small intestines. The gall bladder, too, may be responsible.

All of these can be easily studied. In the absence of any physical findings, the emotional state and the tensions of young people must be considered as causes of the symptoms she complains of.

To guess at the cause is to encourage the possibility of neglected treatment and further complications.

Can the excitement of a prizefight be the reason why my heart began to pump violently last night? The pumping lasted for three minutes and then stopped.

Mr. D.S., Ohio

Dear Mr. S.:

The kind of heart palpitation you describe can be associated with the excitement of this or any other sport.

A drink or two before the prizefight, increased consumption of cigarettes and emotional tension can be the culprits.

I know a patient who develops this kind of palpitation (tachycardia) during high-spirited card games.

Some drugs, especially the amphetamines, can cause this rapid pumping of the heart, especially if compounded by excitement.

In most instances, these transitory episodes are of no major importance. Yet, they do deserve investigation. You obviously are worried. An electrocardiogram and discussion with your doctor will relieve you of your anxiety.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH... Everyone should wear protective paper sandals in the dressing rooms of gyms and swimming pools.

Indian Sites Bill Up For Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An almost forgotten bill, affecting forgotten Americans, is set for a vote this week as the Ohio House takes up a proposal aimed at protecting prehistoric Indian sites from "haphazard destruction."

Dr. Thomas Smith, director of the Ohio Historical Society, said the legislation was designed to offer a workable solution to the problem of often indiscriminate destruction of Indian mounds and earthworks.

The society estimates that Ohio once had as many as 5,000 mounds, mostly from the Adena and Hopewell cultures, dating back to 1,000 B.C. The developers with their bulldozers, and others, have reduced that archaeological storehouse to about 1,000 mounds, according to the society.

The bill, scheduled for a vote Tuesday on the House floor, provides incentives and protective mechanisms intended to preserve significant examples of native American history.

It would establish a State Registry of Archaeological Landmarks to protect land the society considers valuable. Privately-owned land would be placed on the registry only with the consent of the owner.

Any disturbance of such sites, without proper notification to the society, could bring 90 days in jail and

Name President Of Aeroquip Corp.

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Fredrick W. Schwier, 52, has been elected president of Aeroquip Corp., a producer of hose assemblies and fittings, clamps, seals, speed recorders, industrial rubber and other products used in the automotive, aircraft, farm, marine, and railroad industries.

Schwieger, a native of Ft. Wayne, Ind., joined the Libbey-Owens-Ford subsidiary in 1951 and served in a number of marketing positions before advancing to general management responsibilities. He was named general sales manager of the aircraft division in 1958 and became a divisional vice president of marketing in 1969. In 1970 he was named vice president and general manager of the operations that now comprise the aerospace division. He was named executive vice president in 1974.

Schwieger served in the U.S. Army during World War II and attended Michigan State and Purdue universities, majoring in mechanical engineering. He is married and the father of two children.

a $750 fine. Areas of particular note could be deducted as archaeological preserves, exempt from taxation, and protected from any disturbance or other use.

Sale or possession of artifacts or skeletal remains from registered or dedicated sites, without the owners permission, would be a criminal violation.

Most of these provisions are aimed at amateur pottery hunters and vandals, Smith points out. Little can be done to prevent developers from bulldozing their own land.

"You're limited by the fact that you can't control private property to any great extent," agrees the bill's sponsor Rep. John M. Scott, R-63 Fairborn.

The legislation "encourages state and local agencies to require contractors performing works on public improvements to give artifacts and other archaeological findings to the Ohio Historical Society and otherwise cooperate with archaeological preservation."

It would also expand the 15-member Ohio Historic Preservation Advisory Board to 17 members to permit the appointment of an Indian and an archaeologist.

Voted out of the House Energy and Environment Committee last July 31, the measure was lost in the shuffle of year-end legislation.

"The real problem the bill addresses is the more or less haphazard destruction (of Indian sites)," says sponsor Arthur V. Brooks, D-14 Cleveland Heights.

They'll Do It Every Time

Marital Outlook Not All Gloomy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Marriage may have a rosier future than present divorce statistics indicate.

Although recent Census Bureau reports show young people are postponing marriage and that the divorce rate continues to rise, government analysts speculate that Americans are being more careful about selecting mates than they once were.

The result, they say, is that marriages of the future may be more stable than they are now.

"It is a possibility that the longer one waits to marry, the more selective one is in choosing a partner," said Arthur J. Norton, a Census Bureau analyst. "This should make marriage more viable with more of a chance of success."

The institution of marriage is in a state of transition, Norton said in an interview.

Stressing that much of his speculation has yet to be confirmed in statistics, he said that although the short term-effect on marriages may be one of confusion and discontent, often resulting in divorce, marriages of the future may be more harmonious — "Anything in transition creates instability."

Norton said divorce figures indicate people who marry at early ages are more often divorced than persons who marry later in life. And results of the 1970 census show that among persons who first married between 1901 and 1970, the proportion of men who were divorced after their first marriage was more than twice as high among those who married before the age of 20 as for those married in their late 20s.

A Census Bureau report this week showed that the number of persons between 25 and 34 years of age who have never married increased by about 50 per cent since 1970, from 2.9 million to 4.2 million. And the number of persons in that age group heading their own household approximately doubled, from 915,000 to 1.8 million.

At the same time, recent scientific studies indicate that young people have a high regard for the idea of being married. Studies done for the Institute of Social Research at the University of Michigan showed that "marriage and family life are the most satisfying parts of most people's lives and being married is one of the most important determinants of being satisfied with life."

What seems to be happening is that young people are giving more thought to marriage. The women's movement has encouraged many women to enter or continue a career, and the current economic instability has made it necessary for many young women to enter the labor market. The result is that marriage roles are changing. Men are no longer the only breadwinners, and women are no longer the only homemakers.

Also, it is more acceptable to be single and to live together before marriage.

Another factor is that the spiraling divorce rate has made many think twice about the pain and heartache of a bad marriage. In 1975, 10 per cent of all people between the ages of 25 and 54 who had married were either divorced or separated, census figures show.

Other People's Troubles Help

DEAR ABBY: This is to thank you for your Thanksgiving Day column. It gave me the strength to make it through another day.

I am in the Army, stationed in South Korea, and I find it hard to be thankful for anything while I am unwillingly separated from my dear wife and two children.

I am under constant pressure from my buddies to go out with the local "girls," and I'm criticized because I won't. I am in a race with myself to see if I end up in a hospital from too much alcohol or from a nervous breakdown.

I volunteered to work today to keep my mind off the fact that it's a holiday. After reading DEAR ABBY today, you make me realize that as homesick and blue as I am, lots of people have it worse. Thank you.

THANKSGIVING IN KOREA
DEAR THANKSGIVING: Hang in there. Your letter made my day, if you'll permit me a little unsolicited advice: Stay away from the bottle. One drink is too many and a hundred isn't enough. Write home every day, keep busy, stay out of trouble, and yes, pray. And before you know it, you'll be home with your family. God love you.

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the people downstairs whose sleep was frequently disrupted by the noisy mattress acrobatics of the couple upstairs call to mind my husband's famous faux pas:

We moved into an apartment and had the same problem with the Smiths, whose bedroom was directly over ours.

The first time my husband ran into Mr. Smith, he told him with a knowing wink that their noisy nocturnal love-making had been interfering with our sleep.

My husband received an icy "thank you."

We later learned that Mr. Smith worked nights.

FOOT IN MOUTH IN CHICAGO
DEAR ABBY: I was glad to see in your column an item about hostesses who are always pushing food on their guests. Thanks for saying "an ideal hostess never comments on how little a guest is eating."

I have always been a very small eater. When my hostess would call attention to how little I was eating (or worse yet, loudly announcing how "hard" she had worked preparing the meal and how "Hurt" she was that I didn't "like" it), I'd proceed to stuff myself.

Then I would go home and be physically sick!

Finally, I decided that rather than subject myself to such needless torture, I would simply decline invitations from people who tried to make me feel guilty for not eating more than my stomach could comfortably hold.

EATS LIKE A BIRD
DEAR EATS: I'll print your letter for all those well-meaning food-pushers who need reminding.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Aloha Friday Brings Colors To The Fore

HONOLULU (AP) — Four days a week most businessmen trudging between Honolulu's skyscrapers could pass for their counterparts in other cities.

But on Friday dull gray sidewalks become a parade of color.

It's Aloha Friday. Though bankers, lawyers, admen and politicians may still wear wingtips and carry attache cases, they are likely to be wearing a brilliantly printed Hawaiian aloha shirt.

The Hawaiian garment industry began promoting "Aloha Shirt Friday" 10 years ago as a day to put aside neckties in favor of the casual wear made here. Government proclamations and resolutions lent support.

The idea has benefited the garment industry and has played a part in the increasingly casual and colorful look of this major commercial and financial center. For some, every day is aloha shirt day.

"I don't think there's a business any more which doesn't observe Aloha Shirt Friday," says Ray Sasaki Jr., president of the Hawaiian Fashion Guild.

As the Dean Witter stock brokerage firm, local manager Paul T. C. Loo says: "You would think we would be stuffy. But some of us wear aloha shirts every day of the week."

At the Dillingham Corp., one of the state's largest, a spokesman says:

"Some of the executives who were given to wearing suits — God forbid the idea — now wear aloha shirts except when they might have to meet somebody from out of town."

Even the Army experimented for a time with allowing soldiers at desk jobs to wear aloha shirts on some Fridays.

Banks, local airlines, private schools and the state's largest bread manufacturers have capitalized on the popularity of the look by issuing aloha shirt uniforms.

Nobody has been able to calculate the benefit to Hawaii's 107 garment manufacturers, who make little besides aloha shirts and corresponding women's wear. "But it sure didn't hurt our business," says Sasaki.

The industry's wholesale revenues have tripled in the past 20 years to $50 million annually. But some of that is attributable to increasing numbers of tourists.

News Of Interest To Women

The Circleville Herald, Monday January 12, 1976

Blue Star Mothers Clubs Organized Following Attack On Pearl Harbor

Blue Star Mothers of America Inc., was organized as a result of the attack at Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7, 1941. The first news story of the organization appeared in the Flint News Organizer of Flint, Mich., in January of 1942. Immediately after that publication other newspapers wrote stories about its progress.

Capt. George Maines of Flint, Mich., sponsored the new group which was immediately made a national organization. The first chapter was in Flint and began on March 8, 1942. Early in 1943 women in Ohio became interested and formed a few chapters and on May 13 of that year met at Niles.

Several interested women agreed to form the Department of Ohio Blue Star Mothers of America. The first convention was held Nov. 16-17 in Columbus. A constitution and by-laws were presented and the foundation of the Ohio department was begun. It was a greed to divide the state into four districts as work could be more efficient with closer contact with members. Clara Giese was the first department president in this area.

New chapters were formed keeping in mind the objectives of patriotism, education, social life, and service to all veterans.

The Department of Ohio Blue Star Mothers of America was incorporated as a non-profit organization under the laws of the State of Ohio on May 5, 1944. Only mothers with sons or daughters in military service were eligible for membership. There are not 58 chapters in Ohio.

Chapter 7 was organized in Circleville on May 11, 1948 and at the present time has 14 members. Officers for 1975 were: Emma Ankrom, president; Ethel Lane, first vice-president; Aurdy Crawford, second vice-president; Evelyn Pontious, secretary; Olive Hettinger, treasurer; Dorothy Smith, chaplain; Ethel Lane,

CHINESE SUPPER

Chinese fish chowder, Mu Shu pork, rice, spun apples, tea.

Mu Shu Pork

1/2 pound boneless pork loin
1 tablespoon dry sherry
1 tablespoon soy sauce
1 teaspoon cornstarch
1/2 teaspoon sugar
Peanut oil
3 eggs, well beaten
1 cup firmly packed shredded cabbage
1/2 teaspoon salt

1-3rd cup finely chopped scallions
2 cups hot cooked rice

Thinly slice pork and cut into very fine strips 1/2 inches long; mix well with sherry, soy sauce, cornstarch and sugar. Heat 2 tablespoons oil in a wok; add eggs and scramble until very dry; with a spoon break into small pieces; remove from wok. Heat 2 tablespoons oil in the wok. Add the pork mixture, stir-frying until the meat begins to turn color and separates into shreds.

Add cabbage and salt and stir well; cook over high heat, stirring constantly, for 2 minutes. Add eggs and scallions; stir and cook for 1 minute. Mix in well 2 teaspoons peanut oil. Serve at once with the rice. Makes 4 small servings. (The donor of this recipe wrote the splendid "Florence Lin's Chinese Regional Cookbook," published by Hawthorn.)

THRIFTY SUPPER

Corned beef hash, slaw, rye light bread, fruit, cookies.

Rye Light Bread

3 cups white flour
Two 1/4-ounce packets dry yeast
1 cup milk
3/4 cup water
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 teaspoons salt
1 tablespoon sugar
1 1/2 cups (about) medium rye flour

In large electric mixer bowl stir together 2 cups of the white flour and the yeast. Heat milk, water, butter, salt and sugar until warm (120 to 130 degrees); add to yeast mixture. Beat at low speed, scraping bowl constantly, for 1/2 minute. Beat at high speed for 3 more minutes. Stir in the remaining 1 cup white flour and enough rye flour to form a workable dough.

Knead until smooth and elastic — about 10 minutes. Cover and let rest 20 minutes. Form into 2 loaves. Place in 2 buttered loaf pans (each about 8 by 4 by 3 inches). Let rise in draft-free, warm (80 degrees) place until doubled — about 45 minutes. Bake in preheated 375-degree oven about 45 minutes. Makes 2 loaves.

Ohio Seeks Solar Energy Institute

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Development Director James Duerk says Ohio is prepared to launch an all-out campaign to have the proposed National Solar Energy Research Institute (SERI) located in the state.

Duerk, in a report Friday to Gov. James Rhodes, said Ohio is ready to move when the federal Energy Research and Development Administration releases final project criteria later this month.

"Ohio will be ready to prepare a custom-tailored proposal to secure this new and exciting facility," Duerk said. The federal government published preliminary requirements for site determination several months ago.

Since then, Duerk said, "we have mobilized the academic and scientific communities, research and development resources, private industry and community leaders throughout the state to examine the preliminary requirements as outlined by ERDA.

"We have received outstanding cooperation from every resource we have called upon."

Duerk said the proposed facility will be the largest solar research installation in the country. Its major purpose will be to advance the existing technology for early commercialization of solar energy equipment.

The facility will have an annual operating budget of $48 million, Duerk said, and when completed in about three years will employ about 1,700 persons.

Three to four bananas weighing one pound will yield about one and one-third cups after they are peeled and mashed.

Blue Star Mothers Clubs Organized Following Attack On Pearl Harbor

Blue Star Mothers of America Inc., was organized as a result of the attack at Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7, 1941. The first news story of the organization appeared in the Flint News Organizer of Flint, Mich., in January of 1942. Immediately after that publication other newspapers wrote stories about its progress.

Capt. George Maines of Flint, Mich., sponsored the new group which was immediately made a national organization. The first chapter was in Flint and began on March 8, 1942. Early in 1943 women in Ohio became interested and formed a few chapters and on May 13 of that year met at Niles.

Several interested women agreed to form the Department of Ohio Blue Star Mothers of America. The first convention was held Nov. 16-17 in Columbus. A constitution and by-laws were presented and the foundation of the Ohio department was begun. It was a greed to divide the state into four districts as work could be more efficient with closer contact with members. Clara Giese was the first department president in this area.

New chapters were formed keeping in mind the objectives of patriotism, education, social life, and service to all veterans.

The Department of Ohio Blue Star Mothers of America was incorporated as a non-profit organization under the laws of the State of Ohio on May 5, 1944. Only mothers with sons or daughters in military service were eligible for membership. There are not 58 chapters in Ohio.

Chapter 7 was organized in Circleville on May 11, 1948 and at the present time has 14 members. Officers for 1975 were: Emma Ankrom, president; Ethel Lane, first vice-president; Aurdy Crawford, second vice-president; Evelyn Pontious, secretary; Olive Hettinger, treasurer; Dorothy Smith, chaplain; Ethel Lane,

Soviets Fight Grain Shortage

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hard-pressed by a skimpy harvest last year, the Soviet Union has trimmed hog and poultry inventories severely in an apparent effort to conserve valuable grain supplies until 1976 crops are ready, the Agriculture Department said today.

According to department analysts, Russia's hog inventory on Jan. 1 probably was 20 per cent less than it was a year ago and indications point to

2 Escapees At Ottawa Recaptured

YORKVILLE, Ill. (AP) — A calculating sheriff's hunch paid off Sunday leading to recapture of two Ohio prisoners who fled some 250 miles only to find deputies waiting for them to show up.

Robert Landwehr, 18, and Herman Hardy Jr., 36, both of Napoleon, Ohio, were in custody in the Kendall County jail after they were apprehended on Illinois 47 near Yorkville.

Sheriff Thomas Usery said he received a teletype message of the Putnam County jail inmates' escape Saturday night and estimated how long it would take them to arrive in the area should they use that route. Yorkville is about 50 miles west of Chicago.

A deputy spotted the two driving a stolen car and followed them for eight miles before other officers arrived to assist him. The two offered no resistance, they said.

Authorities in Ohio said the men escaped from the jail in Ottawa late Saturday and spent the night in a nearby garage. Early Sunday, they apparently stole the garage owner's car and drove to Van Wert, where another vehicle was reported stolen.

Putnam County deputies said the prisoners escaped after scuffling with a deputy. They took the officer's gun and apparently Hardy was injured in the attempt. Kendall County authorities said his left cheek was slightly injured.

Politicians List Favorite Books

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Terry Ann Forster, a reference librarian at Lane Community College in Eugene, sent letters to 150 well-known Americans last fall, asking them to list their favorite books. By the end of the year, she had received 27 replies.

"All of the politicians answered, I think," she said.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., listed the Bible among his favorites and added that he liked books about "men important in American history," such as "John Quincy Adams and the Foundations of American Policy" by Samuel Flagg Bemis and "The Emergence of Lincoln, Volumes I and II," by Allen Nevins.

Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller said his favorite authors were Mark Twain and Washington Irving.

An aide to President Ford wrote, "The President's favorite book when a child was Horatio Alger, and now he enjoys books on American history and articles on political science."

Horatio Alger was the author of a series of popular books, not the name of a book.

at least an 11 per cent cutback in poultry flocks.

The Soviet cattle herd, however, apparently is being given top priority so that it can weather the current grain shortage. Hogs and poultry can be replaced much more quickly than cattle since they breed more quickly and require less time to grow.

"A substantial part of the decrease in hog numbers since Oct. 1 may be explained by reduced breedings in the summer as drought conditions became more evident, rather than by distress slaughter," the department's Foreign Agricultural Service said.

"The peak in distress slaughter apparently occurred in the third quarter of 1975 when implied pork production was up 56 per cent over the 1974 level," the agency said in a weekly "Foreign Agriculture" magazine. "In contrast, production has been down 33 per cent (from a year earlier)

Steel Demand Rise Seen Through 1980

CLEVELAND (AP) — The domestic steel industry must produce an additional 25 million to 30 million tons by 1980 if it is to meet steel demand, Industry Week magazine says.

The belief that U.S. steel producers can meet this estimate was bolstered by the American Iron & Steel Institute (AISI) which has released figures that show steel producers have the capability to cope with this projected steel demand.

The steel institute has predicted that the steel industry has the capacity to produce 159 million tons in 1976. This would be comfortably within the estimate by steelmakers that in 1976 they will have shipments of 92 million to 98 million tons.

The trade weekly says this is the first time in 15 years that AISI has estimated raw steel production capability. The institute now will offer a utilization rate of the production capability. In AISI's first 1976 report for the week ended Jan. 3, the magazine says, the institute estimates capacity utilization rose to 67.2 per cent from 62.9 per cent.

The Cleveland-base publication says the industry achieved a record raw steel production rate of 150.8 million tons in 1973, or about a 95 per cent utilization rate. The industry achieved shipments of 111.4 million tons in 1973 and 109.5 million tons in 1974.

For the week ended Jan. 3, raw steel production was 2,005,000 net tons. The magazine estimates that for the week ending Jan. 10 production will reach 2,075,000.

Rare Dime Used For Rescue Call

CINCINNATI (AP) — Mike LeBlanc, an avid coin collector, found himself locked inside one of Cincinnati's largest department stores Friday without any coins to make a phone call.

So he resorted using a rare dime valued at $12.50.

Cincinnati Bell said they will open the phone cash box today and return the 1945 Micro S dime to LeBlanc.

"It was worth it," said LeBlanc, "it got me out."

Police said he would have gotten out anyway. He had just activated a burglary alarm.

during the first two months of the fourth quarter."

While the high rates of slaughter have meant more pork and poultry meat for Soviet consumers, those products have not increased in proportion to the killer of livestock, officials said. That is due to the slaughter of many lightweight or young hogs and birds which means less meat than if they had been allowed to mature.

Cattle inventories by Nov. 1 increased 3 per cent from the same date in 1974, the report said. This included a 2 per cent increase in cows, indicating that planners still are intent on preserving and possibly enlarging the country's cattle breeding herd.

The belt-tightening was caused by widespread crop failure as the result of drought last year. According to official USDA estimates, the 1975 Russian harvest was about 137 million metric tons, about 36 per cent short of Moscow's initial target of 215.7 million.

There is some indication that Russia's grain harvest was even smaller than the USDA officially estimates. Based on computations derived from recent announcements of Russia's five-year plan, the 1975 harvest may have been about 123 million tons, the department said.

In any event, the poor harvest forced the Soviet Union to buy huge quantities of grain from other countries, including 13.2 million tons of wheat and corn from the United States, to help make up part of the deficit in 1975-76. A metric ton is 2,205 pounds.

According to department analysts, Russia's hog inventory on Jan. 1 probably was 20 per cent less than it was a year ago and indications point to at least an 11 per cent cutback in poultry flocks.

The Soviet cattle herd, however, apparently is being given top priority so that it can weather the current grain shortage. Hogs and poultry can be replaced much more quickly than cattle since they breed more quickly and require less time to grow.

"A substantial part of the decrease in hog numbers since Oct. 1 may be explained by reduced breedings in the summer as drought conditions became more evident, rather than by distress slaughter," the department's Foreign Agricultural Service said.

"The peak in distress slaughter apparently occurred in the third quarter of 1975 when implied pork production was up 56 per cent over the 1974 level," the agency said in a weekly "Foreign Agriculture" magazine. "In contrast, production has been down 33 per cent (from a year earlier)

during the first two months of the fourth quarter."

While the high rates of slaughter have meant more pork and poultry meat for Soviet consumers, those products have not increased in proportion to the killer of livestock, officials said. That is due to the slaughter of many lightweight or young hogs and birds which means less meat than if they had been allowed to mature.

Cattle inventories by Nov. 1 increased 3 per cent from the same date in 1974, the report said. This included a 2 per cent increase in cows, indicating that planners still are intent on preserving and possibly enlarging the country's cattle breeding herd.

The belt-tightening was caused by widespread crop failure as the result of drought last year. According to official USDA estimates, the 1975 Russian harvest was about 137 million metric tons, about 36 per cent short of Moscow's initial target of 215.7 million.

There is some indication that Russia's grain harvest was even smaller than the USDA officially estimates. Based on computations derived from recent announcements of Russia's five-year plan, the 1975 harvest may have been about 123 million tons, the department said.

In any event, the poor harvest forced the Soviet Union to buy huge quantities of grain from other countries, including 13.2 million tons of wheat and corn from the United States, to help make up part of the deficit in 1975-76. A metric ton is 2,205 pounds.

2 Escapees At Ottawa Recaptured

YORKVILLE, Ill. (AP) — A calculating sheriff's hunch paid off Sunday leading to recapture of two Ohio prisoners who fled some 250 miles only to find deputies waiting for them to show up.

Robert Landwehr, 18, and Herman Hardy Jr., 36, both of Napoleon, Ohio, were in custody in the Kendall County jail after they were apprehended on Illinois 47 near Yorkville.

Sheriff Thomas Usery said he received a teletype message of the Putnam County jail inmates' escape Saturday night and estimated how long it would take them to arrive in the area should they use that route. Yorkville is about 50 miles west of Chicago.

A deputy spotted the two driving a stolen car and followed them for eight miles before other officers arrived to assist him. The two offered no resistance, they said.

Authorities in Ohio said the men escaped from the jail in Ottawa late Saturday and spent the night in a nearby garage. Early Sunday, they apparently stole the garage owner's car and drove to Van Wert, where another vehicle was reported stolen.

Putnam County deputies said the prisoners escaped after scuffling with a deputy. They took the officer's gun and apparently Hardy was injured in the attempt. Kendall County authorities said his left cheek was slightly injured.

Politicians List Favorite Books

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Terry Ann Forster, a reference librarian at Lane Community College in Eugene, sent letters to 150 well-known Americans last fall, asking them to list their favorite books. By the end of the year, she had received 27 replies.

"All of the politicians answered, I think," she said.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., listed the Bible among his favorites and added that he liked books about "men important in American history," such as "John Quincy Adams and the Foundations of American Policy" by Samuel Flagg Bemis and "The Emergence of Lincoln, Volumes I and II," by Allen Nevins.

Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller said his favorite authors were Mark Twain and Washington Irving.

An aide to President Ford wrote, "The President's favorite book when a child was Horatio Alger, and now he enjoys books on American history and articles on political science."

Horatio Alger was the author of a series of popular books, not the name of a book.

Steel Demand Rise Seen Through 1980

CLEVELAND (AP) — The domestic steel industry must produce an additional 25 million to 30 million tons by 1980 if it is to meet steel demand, Industry Week magazine says.

The belief that U.S. steel producers can meet this estimate was bolstered by the American Iron & Steel Institute (AISI) which has released figures that show steel producers have the capability to cope with this projected steel demand.

The steel institute has predicted that the steel industry has the capacity to produce 159 million tons in 1976. This would be comfortably within the estimate by steelmakers that in 1976 they will have shipments of 92 million to 98 million tons.

The trade weekly says this is the first time in 15 years that AISI has estimated raw steel production capability. The institute now will offer a utilization rate of the production capability. In AISI's first 1976 report for the week ended Jan. 3, the magazine says, the institute estimates capacity utilization rose to 67.2 per cent from 62.9 per cent.

The Cleveland-based publication says the industry achieved a record raw steel production rate of 150.8 million tons in 1973, or about a 95 per cent utilization rate. The industry achieved shipments of 111.4 million tons in 1973 and 109.5 million tons in 1974.

For the week ended Jan. 3, raw steel production was 2,005,000 net tons. The magazine estimates that for the week ending Jan. 10 production will reach 2,075,000.

Rare Dime Used For Rescue Call

CINCINNATI (AP) — Mike LeBlanc, an avid coin collector, found himself locked inside one of Cincinnati's largest department stores Friday without any coins to make a phone call.

So he resorted using a rare dime valued at $12.50.

Cincinnati Bell said they will open the phone cash box today and return the 1945 Micro S dime to LeBlanc.

"It was worth it," said LeBlanc, "it got me out."

Police said he would have gotten out anyway. He had just activated a burglary alarm.

Pollution Hits Ohio River Fish

CINCINNATI (AP) — Commercial and game fishing on the Ohio River may be endangered by pollutants chlordane and PCB found in catfish at all eight dams between Pittsburgh, Pa., and southern Illinois.

"Frankly," said Leo Weaver, director of the Ohio River Valley Sanitation Commission (ORSANCO), "this is discouraging. We thought we had made great progress in cleaning up the river since the various species of game fish were making a comeback."

Weaver said more than 100 bass fishing tournaments were held on the Ohio this year as sport fishing on the stream was making a comeback.

Cincy Talks With Police To Continue

CINCINNATI (AP) — City negotiators, successful in reaching agreement with two of three unions representing 6,000 municipal workers, today were to resume talks with police.

Cincinnati City Council officially approved a one-year contract for firemen and nonuniformed workers Saturday. The pact calls for a seven per cent salary increase, plus fringe benefits.

Police last met with city bargainers on Friday amid reports of progress. Elmer Dunaway, president of the Fraternal Order of Police, called off a Tuesday membership meeting which was to be held if the city did not boost its offer.

Police have been working without a contract since Jan. 1 and Dunaway suggested a strike vote was possible at the Tuesday meeting if progress was not noted.

The city has insisted it can not go above its offer of seven per cent.

Nonuniformed workers approved the agreement Saturday after rejecting the package by a 3-to-1 vote earlier in the week.

The city said the raises will cost an estimated $800,000 more than $1.5 million budgeted for salaries in 1976.

Dismiss Suit On Racing License

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—A U.S. District Court judge has dismissed an Ohio woman's suit seeking to force the New Hampshire Greyhound Racing Commission to grant her a license to invest in a state greyhound racing track.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Thomas Rath says Judge Hugh Bownes found the state racing commission didn't arbitrarily deny Geraldine Medina of Cleveland the right to earn a living.

Mrs. Medina alleged the commission unconstitutionally denied her property rights and due process of law by denying her application to become a licensed stockholder in the New Hampshire Kennel Club. Bownes said the woman wanted to invest in the club's race track at Belmont as a "tax shelter."

Mrs. Medina said she has invested $700,000 in the Belmont club and was about to purchase half the operation when she was denied a license.

Sextuplets Note 2nd Birthday

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — The Rosenkowitz sextuplets celebrated their second birthday by cutting a hexagonal, six-flavored cake.

The cake had two candles at each end and an equal distribution of blue and pink icing to represent the three boys and three girls.

The children — David, Grant, Jason, Emma, Nicolette and Elizabeth — were born Jan. 11, 1974. Of 23 sextuplet births recorded to date, only the Rosenkowitz six survive.

ORSANCO, set up in 1948 as a joint venture by 12 Ohio River border states and the federal government to clean up the river, said the states involved and the U.S. Food and Drug Administration are asking the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency to work out details of a cleanup plan.

None of the agencies involved has taken official action, such as warning consumers or drinking water suppliers, according to ORSANCO. Weaver said that was the job of the FDA or the EPA.

Weaver said the amount of the pollutants is not considered dangerous to humans at present because of the small quantities. However, Weaver said, the states involved are concerned because of a resurging commercial fishing industry in West Virginia and southern Illinois.

The fishermen supply mainly pet food manufacturers, although people eat fish from the river.

ORSANCO requested the fish study after the pollutants were found in small amounts in the river. The report was released last December.

Catfish were chosen because they are bottom feeders," said John Feldman, director of the Cincinnati Food and Drug Administration laboratory. "They are great concentrators."

Weaver said chlordane is an organic hydrocarbon used for termite, grub and pest control. It can cause neurological damage. PCB is polychlorinated biphenyl, a suspected carcinogen or cancer-causing element. It is an industrial coolant used mainly in electrical operations such as electric transformers, Weaver said.

PCB in fish was found in the largest amounts at the Dashiels Dam 33 miles south of Pittsburgh and in smaller amounts in the locks at dams downstream below Cincinnati, the report, which was issued Dec. 2, 1975, said.

The Chlordane concentration was found to exceed the FDA standard (of 5 parts per million) in fish taken from Meldahl Dam, upriver from Cincinnati. The concentration was 5.7 ppm. At Markland Dam, down river from Cincinnati at Warsaw, Ky., it was 5.1.

"The very vexing thing," said Weaver, "is there is no known manufacturer of either product along the river, although there may be industrial users. Our job is to find out where they are," he said.

"While I don't think I'd want to eat catfish from the Ohio, I am drinking as much water as I ever did," said Weaver. "But that doesn't mean we are not concerned. We want to trace and put a stop to any chemical found in the water."

3 Persons Die In Fire

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Two elderly women and their brother were killed early Sunday when fire broke out in their rural Clark County home, fire officials said.

A Husted volunteer fire department spokesman said the fire took the lives of Jack Shaw and his sisters, Nettie and Ruth. All were believed to have been in their 70s. Firemen from several nearby volunteer departments helped fight the blaze, but the Husted spokesman said the house was completely engulfed by the time they got there.

He said the fire apparently followed an explosion in the home's oil-fired steam boiler.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
At least five persons were killed in traffic accidents on Ohio roads over the weekend, the state Highway Patrol reported today.

The five deaths were the fewest reported on Ohio highways since the first weekend of June, 1975, when five also were killed. By comparison, 15 died over the long New Year's holiday last weekend.

The dead included an elderly couple killed in a two-car accident in Norwalk Sunday, and two Michigan men, killed in separate accidents Sunday.

The count began at 6 p.m. Friday and extended until midnight Sunday.

The dead:
SUNDAY
PERRYSBURG — Paul Julius Spohler, 36, of Lambertville, Mich., in a one-car accident on Ohio 65 in Wood County.

BEREA — James W. Cashman, 30, of Mount Clemens, Mich., in a two-car accident on the Ohio Turnpike in Cuyahoga County.

NORWALK — Russell A. Stower, 65, and his wife, Rose, 61, both of Norwalk, 61, two-car accident on a city street.

SATURDAY
GREEN SPRINGS — Gary Lee Humbert, 17, of Green Springs, in a one car accident on a county road in Sandusky County two miles north of the Seneca County line.

Bicentennial Drama Being Presented

To get area residents into the bicentennial spirit, the Ohio Theatre is presenting a dramatic historical salute to Thomas Jefferson, Aaron Burr and Alexander Hamilton. The production, entitled "Together Tonight," will be staged Jan. 26-28 at 8:30 p.m. A special matinee on Jan. 28 will be at 2:30 p.m.

Dana Andrews stars as Jefferson with Howard Duff as Hamilton and Monte Markam as Burr. The setting is the winter of 1799 in a Philadelphia meeting hall.

Because of its historical significance, special rates are being offered to student groups. Additional information may be obtained from the Ohio Theatre.

3 Persons Die In Fire

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Two elderly women and their brother were killed early Sunday when fire broke out in their rural Clark County home, fire officials said.

A Huestead volunteer fire department spokesman said the fire took the lives of Jack Shaw and his sisters, Nettie and Ruth. All were believed to have been in their 70s. Firemen from several nearby volunteer departments helped fight the blaze, but the Huestead spokesman said the house was completely engulfed by the time they got there.

He said the fire apparently followed an explosion in the home's oil-fired steam boiler.

Tiger Defense Shackles Blue Lions, 68-48

By BILL MCGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

After a first half that saw them holding a narrow one point lead at the break, the Tigers came back in the second half with a "stick to them like glue defense" that limited the Blue Lions to a mere 17 points in the last two periods and gave Circleville a 68-48 win over Washington C. H. in a South Central Ohio League battle Saturday night at the Mill Street gym.

Circleville held a 21-17 lead at the end of the first period and held a narrow 32-31 edge at the end of the first two quarters.

But, in the final two cantos the Tigers put on a man to man defense that was closer than wallpaper on a wall as they limited the Blue Lions to a total of 18 shots during the half and a grand total of 17 markers.

In the meantime the Tiger offense was lighting the scoreboard for a total of 36 points in the last half and brought home another SCOL win that kept them on top of the heap in the race for the league title.

Biff Bumgarner paced the Tiger attack with nine from the floor and eight from the charity stripe for a total of 26 points, George Moore added 19, Mike McCoy netted 12, Brent Mancini hooped four, Rusty Holbrook tallied three, Jeff Williams had two while Brian Fath hit one.

Chuck Byrd led the Blue Lions with 10 points, Kenny Upthegrove hit nine, John Denen added eight, Doug Phillips tallied six, Sam McClendon and Ed Dewees each hooped four, Scott Sefton added five and Mark Heiny had two.

Circleville hit on 20 of 38 shots from the floor for 53 per cent and added 28 of 51 from the charity stripe for 55 per cent.

Washington C.H. tallied 19 of 45 from the floor for 40 per cent and converted 10 of 19 from the foul line for 52 per cent.

The battle of the boards was won by Circleville as the Tigers pulled down 35 rebounds while the Blue Lions were getting 24. Moore and Bumgarner were the big men for the Tigers while Denen was top man for Washington C. H.

Washington C. H. committed 20 turnovers in the contest while the Tigers misplayed the ball 16 times.

Circleville held a 21-17 lead at the end of the first quarter on some fantastic shots from underneath by Bumgarner, Moore, McCoy and Mancini.

The Tigers became a little turnover prone in the second canto and the Blue

Lions took advantage of it to cut the gap to 32-31 at halftime.

With Bumgarner, McCoy and Moore hitting the hoop and the Tiger defense holding the Blue Lions to four buckets, the first one coming at 4:59, in the third frame the Tigers jumped out to a 53-39 lead at the buzzer.

Circleville coach Jim Bailey went to the bench at the three minute mark of the fourth frame and the Tigers built up a 68-42 edge with 1:29 remaining.

The Blue Lions tallied six points in the final 22 seconds to cut the final score to 68-48.

Washington C.H. had foul trouble and lost Chuck Byrd, Sam McClendon and Kenny Upthegrove via the foul route in the second half.

"Our second half defense was the key to the victory," coach Bailey stated. "Merrill did a fine job defending his man and Bumgarner and Moore shut their men off completely in the second half. Our offense did a good job of taking the ball to the basket and Bumgarner turned in a superb offensive performance."

Circleville is now 8-0 for the season and will be at Madison Plains Tuesday night in another SCOL contest.

Circleville, Logan Elm See Action

Circleville will travel to Madison Plains in a South Central Ohio League cage contest Tuesday night while Logan Elm will be at Amanda Clearcreek in a Mid State makeup game to account for all the action in the county.

The Tigers will be out to run their victory streak to 9-0 against the Eagles and strengthen their league lead.

Starting for Circleville will be Mike McCoy and Frank Merrill at the guards, George Moore at center with Biff Bumgarner and Brent Mancini working up front.

Madison Plains is 2-4 in league with victories over Hillsboro and Unioto.

They are a big, physical team with excellent shooters and good rebounders. They will use a 1-3-1 zone defense and switch to a man to man and half court zone trap.

Logan Elm is leading the Mid State League with a mark of 6-0 and will be meeting the Aces in a game that was originally scheduled for Jan. 2 but was postponed.

The Braves will probably start Mark Skinner and Scott Allen at the guards, Mike Miller at center and Jeff Reichelderfer and Chuck Cave at the forward posts.

Fritz Peterson Unhappy With Tribe

CLEVELAND (AP) — Fritz Peterson, the winner of 10 straight games during Cleveland's second-half surge last year, says he's "not happy" with the Indians any more.

Peterson, a 33-year-old lefthanded pitcher, led Cleveland's generally young pitching staff in 1975 with a 14-8 record. His string of victories began in July after he spent several weeks on the disabled list, and his only loss the rest of the season was in his final start.

North Carolina State expects big figures in basketball from sophomore Kenny Carr of Hyattsville, Md., this season. As a freshman he averaged 13.8 points a game.

Teays Valley Matmen Tie In Triangular

Teays Valley wrestling team tied Ready, 28-28, and downed Logan Elm, 63-12, in a triangular meet Saturday on the Vikings home ground.

Nets Stop Indiana

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New York Nets Coach Kevin Loughery is ready to come out of hiding.

Loughery, suspended for two games and fined $1,000 by American Basketball Association Commissioner Dave DeBusschere for his antics during a game against Virginia last week, said he spent both games sitting in "obscure seats" in the St. Louis Arena and the Nassau Coliseum. Arthur Ashe Wins WCT Tournament

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Arthur Ashe has conquered one of the few tennis worlds he has missed during his outstanding career.

Ashe had failed to survive the second round in two tournament appearances here but came to the World Championship Tennis tournament as the world's top-ranked player.

Last year he conquered Wimbledon and the WCT circuit but at Columbus was still zero for two.

The Miami, Fla., ace changed all that Sunday and collected $17,000 in the process with a 3-6, 6-3, 7-6 victory over Rhodesian Andrew Pattison.

Debut Worth 22 Points

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Mike Borden, who won a court fight to play college basketball, made his collegiate debut Saturday by scoring 22 points and snaring eight rebounds in pacing Ohio University's junior varsity to a 83-76 victory over a city league team.

Borden, 18, was barred from playing last October when the school discovered he was blind in one eye. Represented by the American Civil Liberties Union, the 6-foot-7 Fairborn, Ohio, youth challenged the school policy.

A federal judge in Columbus issued a temporary injunction Dec. 31 ordering the school to reinstate Borden.

"Because of everything said in the newspapers, I felt I had to put on a good show," said Borden, who went out for the team as a walk-on and made the cuts. "If I hadn't, people would say this guy was feeding us a lot of bull."

Borden shook off requests by school officials to wear protective goggles. Late in the game, he collided hard with former OU center Danny Rusch and went sprawling.

"The trainer will probably want me to wear a helmet now," Borden quipped.

Tiger Defense Shackles Blue Lions, 68-48

By BILL MCGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

After a first half that saw them holding a narrow one point lead at the break, the Tigers came back in the second half with a "stick to them like glue defense" that limited the Blue Lions to a mere 17 points in the last two periods and gave Circleville a 68-48 win over Washington C. H. in a South Central Ohio League battle Saturday night at the Mill Street gym.

Circleville held a 21-17 lead at the end of the first period and held a narrow 32-31 edge at the end of the first two quarters.

But, in the final two cantos the Tigers put on a man to man defense that was closer than wallpaper on a wall as they limited the Blue Lions to a total of 18 shots during the half and a grand total of 17 markers.

In the meantime the Tiger offense was lighting the scoreboard for a total of 36 points in the last half and brought home another SCOL win that kept them on top of the heap in the race for the league title.

Biff Bumgarner paced the Tiger attack with nine from the floor and eight from the charity stripe for a total of 26 points, George Moore added 19, Mike McCoy netted 12, Brent Mancini hooped four, Rusty Holbrook tallied three, Jeff Williams had two while Brian Fath hit one.

Chuck Byrd led the Blue Lions with 10 points, Kenny Upthegrove hit nine, John Denen added eight, Doug Phillips tallied six, Sam McClendon and Ed Dewees each hooped four, Scott Sefton added five and Mark Heiny had two.

Circleville hit on 20 of 38 shots from the floor for 53 per cent and added 28 of 51 from the charity stripe for 55 per cent.

Washington C.H. tallied 19 of 45 from the floor for 40 per cent and converted 10 of 19 from the foul line for 52 per cent.

The battle of the boards was won by Circleville as the Tigers pulled down 35 rebounds while the Blue Lions were getting 24. Moore and Bumgarner were the big men for the Tigers while Denen was top man for Washington C. H.

Washington C. H. committed 20 turnovers in the contest while the Tigers misplayed the ball 16 times.

Circleville held a 21-17 lead at the end of the first quarter on some fantastic shots from underneath by Bumgarner, Moore, McCoy and Mancini.

The Tigers became a little turnover prone in the second canto and the Blue

Lions took advantage of it to cut the gap to 32-31 at halftime.

With Bumgarner, McCoy and Moore hitting the hoop and the Tiger defense holding the Blue Lions to four buckets, the first one coming at 4:59, in the third frame the Tigers jumped out to a 53-39 lead at the buzzer.

Circleville coach Jim Bailey went to the bench at the three minute mark of the fourth frame and the Tigers built up a 68-42 edge with 1:29 remaining. The Blue Lions tallied six points in the final 22 seconds to cut the final score to 68-48.

Washington C.H. had foul trouble and lost Chuck Byrd, Sam McClendon and Kenny Upthegrove via the foul route in the second half.

"Our second half defense was the key to the victory," coach Bailey stated. "Merrill did a fine job defending his man and Bumgarner and

CHS Reserves Nipped By Blue Lions

Circleville's reserve team came within a hair of breaking the undefeated streak of Washington C. H. Saturday night but fell one point short as the Lions got away with a 40-39 verdict at the Mill Street gym.

The Tigers trailed 13-9 at the end of the first quarter and were behind 23-18 at halftime. The Red and Black cagers of coach Denny Stewart grabbed a 30-29 edge at the third period buzzer and led 39-38 with 15 seconds left in the game.

But, Mark Burke hit on a driving layup to put the Lions on top by a 40-39 count and a last second shot by the Tigers rolled off the rim and it was all over.

Miller Wins Tucson Open

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — It was different, and tougher, and maybe a little bit more satisfying. And it was just the tiniest bit embarrassing. But the result was the same — Johnny Miller won the Tucson Open Golf Tournament.

"I almost felt guilty about it," Miller said Sunday after he scored his third consecutive victory in this event. "You know, I think the gallery might like to see somebody else win."

That point was brought home to him when the All-American boy — a non-drinker, nonsmoker, family man, and church worker — got some heckling for the first time in his career.

"It didn't bother me," Miller said. "You know, this is supposed to be a gentleman's game. But now we get all kinds in the gallery. Maybe it's even a good thing."

Good thing or not, it had absolutely no effect as the placid Miller calmly and quietly put together a charging, four-under-par 68 that lifted him three strokes clear of the field with a 274 total, 14 under par on the 7,200-yard Tucson National Golf Club course.

Nets Stop Indiana

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New York Nets Coach Kevin Loughery is ready to come out of hiding.

Loughery, suspended for two games and fined $1,000 by American Basketball Association Commissioner Dave DeBusschere for his antics during a game against Virginia last week, said he spent both games sitting in "obscure seats" in the St. Louis Arena and the Nassau Coliseum. He had promised DeBusschere he would be "inconspicuous" in the buildings.

Loughery said he didn't enjoy the game against the Spirits — a 141-130 double overtime loss Saturday night — nearly as much as he did Sunday's game against Indiana, a 112-102 victory over the Pacers.

"I don't like this sitting around," he said after the Nets' seventh victory in seven games with the Pacers this season. "I'd rather be part of the action."

In Sunday's only other ABA game, the Spirits of St. Louis edged the Kentucky Colonels 113-111.

Skip Brown is one of Wake Forest's most-feared basketball players. As a junior last season he averaged 22.7 points a game.

Circleville, Logan Elm See Action

Circleville will travel to Madison Plains in a South Central Ohio League cage contest Tuesday night while Logan Elm will be at Amanda-Clearcreek in a Mid State makeup game to account for all the action in the county.

The Tigers will be out to run their victory streak to 9-0 against the Eagles and strengthen their league lead.

Starting for Circleville will be Mike McCoy and Frank Merrill at the guards, George Moore at center with Biff Bumgarner and Brent Mancini working up front.

Madison Plains is 2-4 in league with victories over Hillsboro and Unio.

They are a big, physical team with excellent shooters and good rebounders. They will use a 1-3-1 zone defense and switch to a man to man and half court zone trap.

Logan Elm is leading the Mid State League with a mark of 6-0 and will be meeting the Aces in a game that was originally scheduled for Jan. 2 but was postponed.

The Braves will probably start Mark Skinner and Scott Allen at the guards, Mike Miller at center and Jeff Reichelderfer and Chuck Cave at the forward posts.

Fritz Peterson Unhappy With Tribe

CLEVELAND (AP) — Fritz Peterson, the winner of 10 straight games during Cleveland's second-half surge last year, says he's "not happy" with the Indians any more.

Peterson, a 33-year-old lefthanded pitcher, led Cleveland's generally young pitching staff in 1975 with a 14-8 record. His string of victories began in July after he spent several weeks on the disabled list, and his only loss the rest of the season was in his final start.

North Carolina State expects big figures in basketball from sophomore Kenny Carr of Hyattsville, Md., this season. As a freshman he averaged 13.8 points a game.

Moore shut their men off completely in the second half. Our offense did a good job of taking the ball to the basket and Bumgarner turned in a superb offensive performance."

Circleville is now 8-0 for the season and will be at Madison Plains Tuesday night in another SCOL contest.

Westfall Mustangs Win Cage Thriller Over Amanda-Clearcreek, 68-65

By TOM SPRING
Herald Sports Reporter
In a wild and wooly cage contest Saturday night, the roundballers of

North Tops South In Senior Bowl

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — A pair of National Football League coaches were a little surprised at the offensive efficiency generated in Sunday's Senior Bowl football battle in which Craig Penrose pitched the North to a 42-35 victory over the South.

"We were looking for a wide open game and it was," said Jack Pardee of the Chicago Bears, who coached the South All-Stars. "I was impressed with the execution of both teams, considering we only had a week of preparation."

"For a game of this type, our offense made very few mistakes," said North Coach Chuck Fairbanks of the New England Patriots. "That third quarter spurt and better defense in the second half is what won it for us."

Penrose, a star at San Diego State, brought the North attack to life with a trio of third period touchdown marches as the Yanks surged to a 42-28 lead after trailing 21-7 at one point.

Penrose, named the game's most valuable player, hit on 12 of 15 passes for 303 yards and three touchdowns, two to his San Diego teammate, Duke Ferguson, covering seven and 18 yards. The second put the North ahead to stay.

The Yanks then got what proved to be the winning score when Penrose and Wyoming's Larry Gaines combined on a 73-yard scoring play, with Gaines taking the pass in traffic at his 40, popping clear and outrunning everybody to the end zone.

Gaines earlier had scored the tying touchdown on a three-yard plunge after Penrose set it up with passes of 31 and 29 yards.

The other North scoring came on passes of 27 and nine yards from Toledo's Gene Swick to Joe Smalzer of Illinois.

In Saturday's college football action, Michigan State quarterback Charlie Baggett scored on a one-yard keeper and teammate Tyrone Wilson dashed eight yards for another touchdown, leading the North to a 21-14 victory over the South in the American Bowl in Tampa, Fla.

And the East beat the West 16-0 in the Hula Bowl in Honolulu on the running of Purdue's Mike Pruitt and Kentucky's Sonny Collins and three field goals — two record-setting 46-yards — by Don Bitterlich of Temple.

Gears Stomp Gems, 7-3

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Saginaw Gears demonstrated why they're rated first in the International Hockey League North Division by trouncing the Dayton Gems 7-3 Sunday.

Dave Westner scored a pair of goals to pace Saginaw to the home-ice victory over Dayton, which is first in the South Division.

Stu Irving, Gary Sittler, Marcell Comeau, Paul Evans and Jim McMahon had Saginaw's other goals. Brian Kinsella, Gordie Lane and Murry Fleck scored for the Gems.

Saginaw goalie Mario Lasser stopped 39 shots while Dayton goalie Jim Pettie turned away 43.

Saginaw upped its record to 22-14-6, while Dayton dropped to 22-15-5.

In an IHL contest at Kalamazoo, Ken Mann scored two goals, including one into an empty net with 44 seconds left to play, to give Kalamazoo a 3-1 victory over Muskegon.

Emile Demoissac scored Kalamazoo's other goal while Pat Demarchi had Muskegon's lone goal.

Pete Johnson of Ohio State led the nation's collegians in scoring last season. In 11 football games he tallied 150 points on 25 touchdowns.

Westfall, displaying calm and poise, in the final minutes, nipped the Amanda-Clearcreek Aces 68-65 Saturday night on the Mustang floor.

The Aces jumped out to an early lead and led most of the first half. Their aggressive play failed to stymie the Mustangs, however, and Westfall went to work in the second half. The Mustangs maintained a three or four point lead throughout most of the final two frames and their coolness under pressure forced mistakes as they eked out a victory.

Chris Riddle put the Mustangs on the scoreboard first with a shot underneath at 7:30 in the first frame, but Amanda-Clearcreek began their own attack with two strings of six markers to take a 12-4 lead at 2:55. Westfall tried to solve a 2-1-2 Amanda zone and trailed at the first buzzer 16-9.

The Mustangs could do no better in the second period, matching buckets with their opponents until midway in the quarter. Then, Westfall coach Mike Eckle sent in the Schleich brothers, John and Eric, and suddenly the Mustangs began a stampede, running away with 14 of the next sixteen points, going ahead 25-24 on a bucket by John Schleich at 2:03 and leading 29-24 at 1:08.

The Aces' Doug Starner came up with four points in the last 13 seconds and the Mustangs went into the locker room with a one-point half-time edge, 29-28.

In the third canto, Kevin Reid took advantage of assists from Riddle and put up six points to pull Westfall ahead 36-30 at 6:23.

The Aces then countered buckets by Reid and Bill Hamman with the fast break and 11 points to take a 43-41 advantage at 4:01. Westfall called time out to regroup, came back with a new zone, and goals by Reid, Riddle and the Schleich brothers made it 50-45 Westfall's favor.

At this point, The Aces usually calm coach disputed a call, was charged with three technical fouls and ejected from the game. Bill Hamman added two free throws and the Mustangs went into the final frame with a 52-45 edge.

In the final period the Mustangs allowed six straight points by the Aces to narrow the gap 54-51 and Westfall maintained a slim margin.

It was anybody's game though. After free throws by Reid and Riddle made it 66-61, at 1:15, the Mustangs tried a stall, but The Aces tied up the ball and added two more buckets to trail 66-65. But Bill Hamman drew a backcourt foul and calmly sank two charity tosses at 0:10 to put the game on ice, 68-65.

Leading all scorers in the fray was Kevin Reid with 26 points, Bill Hamman added 13 for Westfall, Chris Riddle netted 12, Jeff Karshner tallied six, John Schleich hit five, Eric Schleich, Mack Dick and Terry Hanson each sank a field goal.

For the Aces, Doug Starner scored 18, Cloyce Hartley hooped 16, Russ Foster ripped 11, Mike Nye and Jim Desaadid each added six, Tom Hinton hit four, Jeff Bethel and Mike Cassill each had two.

Westfall hit on 27 of 59 attempts from the field for a 45 per cent average and sank 14 of 24 tosses from the charity stripe for 58.3 per cent. Amanda connected on 30 of 61 field goal attempts for a 48 per cent average and added five of 11 free throw tries for 45.4 per cent.

The Mustangs played an excellent game off the boards pulling down 39 rebounds to 28 for the Aces. Reid took 12 and Karshner, 11 for Westfall.

Both teams had 18 turnovers. Coach Eckle commented afterwards, "We had two or three times we should have put them away but didn't. When you have a chance to put them away and don't, most of the time they'll come back to haunt you but they didn't this time."

"We got a good game out of Kevin Reid. The guards and forwards set him up real well. Bill Hamman had two big clutch free throws and John Schleich, Jeff Karshner and Terry Hanson all played excellent games."

Amanda-Clearcreek won the reserve game, 40-32.

Logan Elm Wins Mid State Game

Playing their best second, third and fourth quarters of basketball of the season, the Logan Elm Braves rolled to a 73-50 decision on the road at Bloom Carroll Saturday.

The Braves have a 7-2 overall record and are 6-0 in the Mid State. Tomorrow night they travel to Amanda-Clearcreek to play a tilt originally scheduled Jan. 2 but changed because the schools were still on the Christmas break. Friday they host Canal Winchester.

Bradbury was particularly pleased with the victory because "we have proven we can win on the road." Last year the Braves had six losses away from home and both losses this year have been away from the Spangler Memorial Gymnasium. At home LE has an 11-game win skein going.

The LE coach credited a fine team effort for the win. "We played very unselfishly, the passing was good and the boys all the way down the line were looking for one another," he reported. Chuck Cave, Jeff Reichelderfer, Mike Miller and Mark Skinner all had two assists each.

From the field the Braves shot a respectable 50 per cent, canning 30 of 60 attempts. At the foul line the Logan Elm hoopsters made 13 of 18 tries, a 72 per cent accuracy rate.

"We held our turnovers down for the first time," Bradbury commented. The Braves set a goal during the week to holding turnovers to below 15 and they met it with only 14. They have been averaging 21.6 turnovers a game. The Braves controlled the boards, outrebounding the Bulldogs 25-21. Reichelderfer was the leading rebounder with seven. Miller snared six missed shots and Cave four.

In the scoring department, Reichelderfer garnered the game laurels, making a dozen shots from the field and a pair at the charity stripe for 26 total. Rounding out the scoring, Mike Miller had nine, Steve Rawlins, Scott Allen and Dave Dean eight each, Skinner and Cave six each and Bob Sargent two. For the Bulldogs, Dave Cotner was the leading scorer with 16 markers.

The Logan Elm reserves lost the preliminary game, 50-41. The reserves are 4-2 in the Mid State League and 6-3 overall.

Westfall Mustangs Win Cage Thriller Over Amanda-Clearcreek, 68-65

By TOM SPRING
Herald Sports Reporter
In a wild and wooly cage contest Saturday night, the roundballers of

North Tops South In Senior Bowl

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — A pair of National Football League coaches were a little surprised at the offensive efficiency generated in Sunday's Senior Bowl football battle in which Craig Penrose pitched the North to a 42-35 victory over the South.

"We were looking for a wide open game and it was," said Jack Pardee of the Chicago Bears, who coached the South All-Stars. "I was impressed with the execution of both teams, considering we only had a week of preparation."

"For a game of this type, our offense made very few mistakes," said North Coach Chuck Fairbanks of the New England Patriots. "That third quarter spurt and better defense in the second half is what won it for us."

Penrose, a star at San Diego State, brought the North attack to life with a trio of third period touchdown marches as the Yanks surged to a 42-28 lead after trailing 21-7 at one point.

Penrose, named the game's most valuable player, hit on 12 of 15 passes for 303 yards and three touchdowns, two to his San Diego teammate, Duke Ferguson, covering seven and 18 yards. The second put the North ahead to stay.

The Yanks then got what proved to be the winning score when Penrose and Wyoming's Larry Gaines combined on a 73-yard scoring play, with Gaines taking the pass in traffic at his 40, popping clear and outrunning everybody to the end zone.

Gaines earlier had scored the tying touchdown on a three-yard plunge after Penrose set it up with passes of 31 and 29 yards.

The other North scoring came on passes of 27 and nine yards from Toledo's Gene Swick to Joe Smalzer of Illinois.

In Saturday's college football action, Michigan State quarterback Charlie Baggett scored on a one-yard keeper and teammate Tyrone Wilson dashed eight yards for another touchdown, leading the North to a 21-14 victory over the South in the American Bowl in Tampa, Fla.

And the East beat the West 16-0 in the Hula Bowl in Honolulu on the running of Purdue's Mike Pruitt and Kentucky's Sonny Collins and three field goals — two record-setting 46-yards — by Don Bitterlich of Temple.

Gears Stomp Gems, 7-3

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Saginaw Gems demonstrated why they're rated first in the International Hockey League North Division by trouncing the Dayton Gems 7-3 Sunday.

Dave Westner scored a pair of goals to pace Saginaw to the home-ice victory over Dayton, which is first in the South Division.

Stu Irving, Gary Sittler, Marcell Comeau, Paul Evans and Jim McMahon had Saginaw's other goals. Brian Kinsella, Gordie Lane and Murry Fleck scored for the Gems.

Saginaw goalie Mario Lasser stopped 39 shots while Dayton goalie Jim Pettie turned away 43.

Saginaw upped its record to 22-14-6, while Dayton dropped to 22-15-5.

In an IHL contest at Kalamazoo, Ken Mann scored two goals, including one into an empty net with 44 seconds left to play, to give Kalamazoo a 3-1 victory over Muskegon.

Emile Demoissac scored Kalamazoo's other goal while Pat Demarchi had Muskegon's lone goal.

Pete Johnson of Ohio State led the nation's collegians in scoring last season. In 11 football games he tallied 150 points on 25 touchdowns.

Westfall, displaying calm and poise, in the final minutes, nipped the Amanda-Clearcreek Aces 68-65 Saturday night on the Mustang floor.

The Aces jumped out to an early lead and led most of the first half. Their aggressive play failed to stymie the Mustangs, however, and Westfall went to work in the second half. The Mustangs maintained a three or four point lead throughout most of the final two frames and their coolness under pressure forced mistakes as they eked out a victory.

Chris Riddle put the Mustangs on the scoreboard first with a shot underneath at 7:30 in the first frame, but Amanda-Clearcreek began their own attack with two strings of six markers to take a 12-4 lead at 2:55. Westfall tried to solve a 2-1-2 Amanda zone and trailed at the first buzzer 16-9.

The Mustangs could do no better in the second period, matching buckets with their opponents until midway in the quarter. Then, Westfall coach Mike Eckle sent in the Schleich brothers, John and Eric, and suddenly the Mustangs began a stampede, running away with 14 of the next sixteen points, going ahead 25-24 on a bucket by John Schleich at 2:03 and leading 29-24 at 1:08.

The Aces' Doug Starnier came up with four points in the last 13 seconds and the Mustangs went into the locker room with a one-point half-time edge, 29-28.

In the third canto, Kevin Reid took advantage of assists from Riddle and put up six points to pull Westfall ahead 36-30 at 6:23.

The Aces then countered buckets by Reid and Bill Hamman with the fast break and 11 points to take a 43-41 advantage at 4:01. Westfall called time out to regroup, came back with a new zone, and goals by Reid, Riddle and the Schleich brothers made it 50-45 Westfall's favor.

At this point, The Aces usually calm coach disputed a call, was charged with three technical fouls and ejected from the game. Bill Hamman added two free throws and the Mustangs went into the final frame with a 52-45 edge.

In the final period the Mustangs allowed six straight points by the Aces to narrow the gap 54-51 and Westfall maintained a slim margin.

It was anybody's game though. After free throws by Reid and Riddle made it 66-61, at 1:15, the Mustangs tried a stall, but The Aces tied up the ball and added two more buckets to trail 66-65. But Bill Hamman drew a backcourt foul and calmly sank two charity tosses at 0:10 to put the game on ice, 68-65.

Leading all scorers in the fray was Kevin Reid with 26 points, Bill Hamman added 13 for Westfall, Chris Riddle netted 12, Jeff Karshner tallied six, John Schleich hit five, Eric Schleich, Mack Dick and Terry Hanson each sank a field goal.

For the Aces, Doug Starnier scored 18, Cloyce Hartley hooped 16, Russ Foster ripped 11, Mike Nye and Jim Desaadio each added six, Tom Hinton hit four, Jeff Bethel and Mike Cassill each had two.

Westfall hit on 27 of 59 attempts from the field for a 45 per cent average and sank 14 of 24 tosses from the charity stripe for 58.3 per cent. Amanda connected on 30 of 61 field goal attempts for a 48 per cent average and added five of 11 free throw tries for 45.4 per cent.

The Mustangs played an excellent game off the boards pulling down 39

rebounds to 28 for the Aces. Reid took 12 and Karshner, 11 for Westfall.

Both teams had 18 turnovers. Coach Eckle commented afterwards, "We had two or three times we should have put them away but didn't. When you have a chance to put them away and don't, most of the time they'll come back to haunt you but they didn't this time."

"We got a good game out of Kevin Reid. The guards and forwards set him up real well. Bill Hamman had two big clutch free throws and John Schleich, Jeff Karshner and Terry Hanson all played excellent games."

Amanda-Clearcreek won the reserve game, 40-32.

Leading the Mustang attack was Mike Hurley with 12 markers. Jeff Mowery hooped 11, Mike Weidinger netted four, Chuck Mettler tallied three, Dave Clem and Ted Everman each sank a free throw.

For the Aces, Tim Hinton hit 12, Rick Foster added 10, Gary Frye scored nine, Ed Thompson ripped five and Rob Turner netted four.

Westfall is now 6-4 overall and 3-3 in league play and will travel to Paint Valley Friday for a Scioto Valley Conference game and will be on the road Saturday at Bishop Flagg.

FOR TUESDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Streamline operations to meet present needs. Some activities may have to be dropped if they are not producing. But do not drop projects now running smoothly.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): You seem to have the inside track now, so take advantage of it. Good opportunities indicated, but grasp them quickly or you could lose out.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Mercury, favorable, now promises increasing gains. But some minor situations may have to be ironed out before you can go ahead with long-range ventures.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): If things don't seem to be going quite "as usual," ask questions. Some changes may have been made, some new procedure initiated of which you are not - but should be - aware.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): You may be given some extra responsibilities but, if the end result seems worthwhile, accept them - ambitiously.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Stellar influences stimulate intellectual pursuits and carefully directed ambitions. If impulsive or hurried, however day won't please. Think constructively and avoid errors.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Fine planetary influences now stimulate your imagination, spark new and lofty ambitions, give you a fresh outlook on life.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): Here is a chance for your special gifts of inspirational planning and organizing, under either revised or completely new methods. Do make the most of it!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24 to Dec. 23): Mixed influences. Plan to clear up today any confusing situations. Security must be built up on a sound basis. Intelligently productive methods needed.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 24 to Jan. 20): Invest time and energies only in projects worthy of your endeavor. In a rush to accomplish, however, don't by-pass details.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Uranus somewhat adverse. Watch for irritating situations and bridge them amicably and with unbiased opinion. Move briskly into productive areas.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): A more or less average day. Better finish, or at least further current projects. Starting new undertakings without proper preparation could lead to disappointment.

YOU BORN TODAY are both intellectually and manually dexterous. You think quickly, act speedily - but always with precision and accuracy. Extremely versatile, there are many fields in which you could carve an eminent career. Best outlets for your talents, however, will be in science, literature, education and the law, which could eventually lead you to politics and (or) statesmanship. Traits to curb: jealousy, moodiness and undue suspicion of others. Birthdate of: Horatio Alger, Amer. author (noted especially for juvenile stories); Salmon P. Chase, Amer. jurist, statesman.

NEW YORK (AP) — Compared to Sunday's opening installment of "Eleanor and Franklin" on ABC, tonight's concluding episode is as different as night and day, if we may coin a phrase.

It's excellent and well worth two hours of your time. Sunday's effort, dramatizing the formative years of Eleanor Roosevelt and ending with the start of her 40-year marriage to Franklin D. Roosevelt, was so dull you almost could hear it snore.

Not so tonight's episode, covering the couple's life together from 1913, when FDR was Assistant Secretary of the Navy, to his first election as President during the depression. Only one scene is poor.

It's at the end, after Roosevelt's death in Warm Springs, Ga., in 1945. Two reporters aboard the train bearing his body back to Washington pay their respects to Mrs. Roosevelt in language suggesting they graduated summa cum salaam from the University of Fawning.

Otherwise, I've no beefs about the show, although others will gripe that it almost entirely avoids the political side of the Roosevelts in favor of the drama of their personal life. Well, that's okay. I'm tired of political stories, anyway.

The shot begins in April 1945, with a sensitive, moving scene of Mrs. Roosevelt arriving at the train station in Warm Springs to accompany the flagdraped casket of her husband back to Washington.

As in the first show, their story is told in flashbacks to the earlier years, punctuated here by brief, recurring scenes of the widow alone with her memories in the funeral train, going home.

The program centers on two personal crises: FDR's summer romance in 1914 with Lucy Mercer, his wife's pretty social secretary, and his 1921 bout with the polio that crippled him for life.

After Eleanor discovers the affair, a council of heart is held with Roosevelt, his over-protective mother and her. Eleanor offers him a divorce, his mother reminds all it would end his political career and an uneasy truce is arranged on the condition he never see Miss Mercer again.

When he's stricken with polio, Eleanor turns to the task of keeping his political ambitions alive, despite his mother's desire that he retire, move his family to Hyde Park and live with her.

With the sardonic, yet gentle prodding of FDR's longtime political strategist, Louis Howe, Eleanor takes on the additional task of keeping the Roosevelt name before the public while he's recuperating.

Jane Alexander's performance as Eleanor is, as it was in the first show, brilliant. Both she and Ed Flanders, who turns in a fine job tonight as Howe, each deserve an Emmy, while honorable mention at award time should go to Edward Hermann, cast as FDR.

As in the first show, the photography by Paul Lohmann is excellent, ditto the music score by John Barry. James Costigan, who wrote Sunday's bad script, more than redeems himself tonight.

Residents of the countryside on the Caribbean island of Aruba often utilize "living clotheslines" for hanging wash out to dry. Cactus fences which enclose property make a perfect rack for clothes.

OAU Evenly Split On Angolan Policy

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — The African summit meeting on Angola ends today, but the leaders were evenly divided over whether to support the Soviet-backed Popular Movement (MPLA) in the civil war or to call for a coalition government of the three warring factions.

The African leaders agreed that South Africa and other foreign powers should cease their intervention in the fighting. But supporters of the MPLA said Soviet aid to the Marxist faction, which began more than 10 years ago when it was fighting Portuguese rule, could not be compared with the recent help given by South Africa and the United States to the National Front (FNLA) and the National Union (UNITA).

Gen. Murtala Muhammed of Nigeria charged that South Africa and the United States sought to restore white supremacy in Angola because of its oil and mineral wealth.

As debate was adjourned after midnight Sunday, the assistant secretary-general of the Organization of African Unity, Peter Onu, told reporters the OAU members were divided 22 to 22 on two resolutions, with Ethiopia and Uganda not yet taking sides.

One resolution called for the OAU to recognize the MPLA as the legitimate government of Angola. The other called for the OAU to continue the policy of neutrality it adopted last year and urged the three Angolan factions to form a coalition government.

Diplomats said both resolutions called for an end to foreign intervention and condemned South Africa's whiteminority regime for sending troops into Angola to help the FNLA and UNITA.

Observers said there appeared to be no prospect of ending the division over Africa's most divisive political crisis in recent years. But they cautioned against predictions that the Angolan dispute might rip the organization apart. Consensus has emerged before at OAU meetings that appeared near collapse, they said, and most African leaders are determined to preserve the OAU.

Holden Roberto, the leader of the FNLA, complained to newsmen that the Soviets supplied the MPLA more and better arms than the United States sent his forces via Zaire and Zambia. Jonas Savimbi of UNITA said the U.S. Senate vote to cut off aid was an abdication of American responsibility.

to ban busing and to permit parents to choose what schools their children attend.

Wallace supporters in the state, where busing has been the center of controversy among many voters, said anything more than the 8 per cent he received in the 1972 primary would be a victory for Wallace.

Also in the Bay State, supporters of former North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford announced the 58-year-old candidate had been admitted to a hospital for observation after experiencing some minor chest pains during a campaign appearance in Marblehead.

Sanford's staff is "holding" his schedule for Tuesday through Thursday in New Hampshire, where voters name their preference on Feb. 24. A hospital spokesman said he "didn't think" the Duke University president's pains involved his heart.

The weekend saw not only a new Democratic candidate — Sen. Robert Byrd, D-W.Va. — but also a new preferential primary, Vermont's. Vermont will vote March 2, the same day as Massachusetts.

The Vermont contest drew its first Democratic hopeful, R. Sargent Shriver, with Carter, Harris, Bayh and Rep. Morris Udall of Arizona waiting to enter, according to their staffs.

Republican Reagan said he has not yet decided to add his name to the other side of the ballot in Vermont.

Reagan's Florida campaign chief, L. E. Thomas predicted, "Two thirds of the Republicans in Florida want Reagan. I guess a campaign chairman really shouldn't be predicting such fantastic odds, but it's true.... The opposition is already beginning to look like poor losers."

But Howard Callaway, who leads Ford's election effort, said Ford will win in New Hampshire, "Reagan's best northern state"; Florida, "his best Southern state"; Illinois; Massachusetts and North Carolina.

A fund-raiser for the re-election cause of Rep. Berkley Bedell, D-Iowa, gave Carter, Bayh, Harris, Udall and Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington a chance to press for support from Iowa voters, who next week select precinct delegates in a process that eventually will choose delegates to the Democrats' New York City convention.

After those precinct meetings come county, regional and state conventions. At each level, delegates are selected for the next.

Udall pointed out the importance of the Iowa caucus system.

"You are starting the choosing process for the whole country. So look at us and make sound choices," he told 1,200 Democrats.

Bayh called for major tax reform, improved housing and an end to high-interest money policies.

"The disturbing thing about our country is that people have lost faith," Bayh said. "What American people want is a president that can make them believe again."

Gross mismanagement of the economy and foreign affairs have eroded America's confidence in its leaders, Jackson charged. He said, "We want detente to be a two-way street, not one-way. It's high time we stopped the giveaway in foreign relations."

Harris sounded populist themes. Earlier in the day he opposed covert aid to Angola and CIA financing of non-Communist political parties in Italy, declaring, "We can't decide the kind of governments that other people are going to have."

Agatha Christie Succumbs

LONDON (AP) — Agatha Christie, 85-year-old queen of British mystery story writers, has died, her publishers announced today.

Miss Christie, who wrote "The Mousetrap," the longest running play in British theater history, and at least 84 novels that sold an estimated 350 million copies, died at her home in Wallingford, 55 miles west of London.

Her books had been translated into at least 103 languages, 16 more than Shakespeare's works. On top of her prolific output, she also wrote 19 plays, books of poetry, children's stories and a book on archeology.

"It's murder," she once said describing the writing of her tales of death and detection. "People think writing is easy for me. But it isn't."

Miss Christie never had any formal education and insisted she got her best ideas when she was bored.

She was a tall energetic woman with shrewd gray eyes, crinkled at the corners that gave a hint of her charm and good nature.

She had a penchant for strings of pearls that gave her the appearance of a matronly grandmother rather than a writer of mysteries.

Seek Common Front In U.N. Mideast Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Arab delegates and representatives of the Palestine Liberation Organization sought in last-minute consultations to forge a common front for the Security Council debate on the Arab-Israeli dispute starting this afternoon.

The Palestinians' chief goal was to cap a series of diplomatic successes over the past two years with a council resolution recognizing Palestinian rights as one of the subjects that must be dealt with in Arab-Israeli peace negotiations.

The PLO has rejected the two council resolutions that form the basis of all peace efforts because they speak of a "refugee problem" without mentioning the Palestinian cause. A new resolution citing Palestinian rights would put heavy pressure on the Israelis to soften their refusal to negotiate with any Palestinian organization.

The most formidable hurdle before the Arabs is the possibility of an American veto in support of Israel. But Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, while declaring he is opposed to any changes in the two resolutions, has not ruled out acceptance of a new one.

Israeli diplomats in Jerusalem expressed fear that the Arabs would produce an "innocuous looking" resolution calling for satisfaction of the "legitimate rights of the Palestinians."

"Words like 'legitimate rights' look difficult to veto, but if allowed to pass they could begin an erosion," said one diplomat.

"We have not been contacted directly or indirectly by the Americans," said a PLO spokesman. "We are not aware of the limits they will accept."

Hotel Blast Toll May Reach 20

FREMONT, Neb. (AP) — The manager of the Pathfinder Hotel says he "smelled gas all over the place" and tried to call the gas company several times in the hour preceding the weekend explosion that blew the hotel off its foundations and left as many as 20 persons dead.

Manager Jim Rhodus said that after getting a recorded message, he called the local emergency number to get help. Some time after three crew members of the gas company arrived Saturday, a blast ripped through the basement of the six-story building, collapsing the first floor into the basement.

Twelve bodies had been recovered by late Sunday, but the death toll was expected to reach about 20 when all the missing were found.

Aided by two cranes and several payloaders, firemen dug through mounds of concrete, brick and wood today, searching for more bodies.

Officials say the cause of the blast has not been determined, but an investigation is being conducted by the state fire marshal's office. A final determination is not expected for several weeks.

One of the missing is Bill Van Meter, 56, one of the three Nebraska Natural Gas Co. employees who were in the hotel's basement investigating the report of a gas leak when the explosion occurred.

The bodies of the other two gas company employees, Carl Richard Strong, 44, and James Walline, 47, were found Saturday night in the basement section near what was the hotel's heating plant.

Police Chief Fred Whitt said there was no hope of finding anyone alive in the rubble.

Dodge County Coroner F.A. Gossett III said between six and nine bodies may still be buried in the debris but an accurate count was impossible because of the transient nature of the hotel guests.

Among the seven women and five men confirmed dead by Sunday were Kit Yeefu Chan, 25, of Lincoln, a part-time worker in the hotel pharmacy and her husband, Chi Cheung Chan. Chan, a graduate student at the University of Nebraska, drove his wife to work and apparently walked into the drug store with her.

A total of 11 bodies were recovered Saturday, four from the upper floors, seven from the caved-in basement area near where officials believe the blast was ignited.

The 12th victim, Louis Hruska, a barber who operated a shop in the hotel, was found in the basement late Sunday afternoon.

More than 40 persons were treated for injuries at the Memorial Hospital of Dodge County. Most were later released, but hospital officials said there were a number of very serious injuries.

The hotel was a local landmark and was the largest hotel in this agriculturally oriented community of about 23,000 persons about 30 miles from Omaha. In recent years, many of its rooms had been remodeled into apartments.

THE CHOICE THAT HELPS YOU SAVE

Throughout your Kroger store, the Choice is Yours. You'll find a variety of styles, sizes and prices to meet your family's needs and your budget.

You'll find two types of beef at different price levels but equal nutrition. No less than five types of ground beef—from the finest ground round to soy-beef mixture.

Leading national or regional brands of canned goods. But also money-saving top-quality Kroger Brands. And for extra savings, look for other Kroger store brands such as Avondale or Embassy. (If you're serving peaches for dessert, buy the perfect halves in heavy syrup. But if you're cutting them up for a gelatin salad, a less fancy brand such as Avondale will be fine.)

There's extra-large, large, medium or small eggs. Whole milk, 2%, skim. Giant or regular size fresh fruits and vegetables (for the kids to eat out of hand, small apples work just as well!)

Buy what you need . . . the wise shopper buys to fit the intended use. At Kroger, we give you a Choice . . . to fit your taste and your pocketbook.

We hear you and we're trying to help!

WE REDEEM

WE HAVE WHAT WE ADVERTISE, if at all possible. If, due to conditions beyond our control we run out of an advertised special we substitute a comparable brand at a similar savings or give you a rain check for the advertised special at the special price anytime within 30 days. WE GUARANTEE WHAT WE SELL. If you are ever dissatisfied with a Kroger purchase, we will replace your item or refund your money.
